SAN FRANCISCO, June 22. — (UP)—A new alliance of coast maritime and teamster unions involving 70,000 workers in opposition to the C. I. O.'s Maritime Federation of the Pacific was announced today by Harry Lundeborg, head of the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

The new alliance, Lundeborg said, was to provide a united front in negotiations with employers when present labor contracts expire September 30.

Teamsters Sign

Backing the alliance, Lundeborg announced, were the 52,000 members of the teamsters union, so-called "backbone" of A. F. of L. strength on the west coast.

Previously, W. M. Mitchell, another attorney for the countess, had admitted that "certain precautions" were being taken to protect the child.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(UP)—
Champion Joe Louis, betting favorite, held a 5% pound advantage over Challenger Max Schmeling of Germany today when they were examined for tonight's 15 round heavyweight title fight at Yankee stadium.
Louis weighed 198½ pounds; Schmeling, 188½.

Champion and challenger, here they are in fighting pose, Joe Louis left, is determined to avenge his smashing defeat of two years ago when he meets Max Schmeling, right, the German challenger, in New York's heavyweight championship bout tonight.

Despite cloudy, oppressive weather and a forecast of "possible showers" between sundown and midnight, Promoter Mike Jacobs said the fight would be held, although it might start half an hour earlier in case of rain.

Louis Still 2-1 Favorite

With the fight only a few hours away Louis still was a decided favorite. He was held at 1 to 2 and it was predicted that he would go to 1 to 3 or thereabouts.

NAZI SPY SUSPECTS PLEAD NOT GUILTY IN U. S. COURT

The weigh-in was in the arena of Madison Square Garden, with the scales pitched on the exact site where the late promoter "Tex" Rickard, lay in state some years ago.

A crowd of approximately 1200 swarmed over the arena floor watching the ceremony. Hundreds of policemen kept back thousands of spectators who jammed Eighth avenue and the side streets, hoping to get a glimpse of the principals in the greatest fight in more than a decade.

NEW YORK, June 22.—(UP)—Four accused spies, indicted by a federal grand jury as members of a German espionage ring that obtained United States military secrets, pleaded not guilty in federal court today and were continued on bail of $25,000 each.

Heavy Stubble of Beard
Louis, cool, quiet and apparently confident, sported a heavy stubble of beard. Schmeling, equally cool, was clean shaven. Max smiled and spoke to friends. The champion never smiled and did not speak to anyone, not even to the man who battered him to the canvas at Yankee stadium two years ago.

Federal Judge Vincent Liebell issued bench warrants for the 14 others named in the indictment, which charged members of the German government with actively directing spies in this country.

Louis objected strenuously when the scale tenders insisted that he remove his trunks and be weighed nude. Only after Gen John J. Phelan, chairman of the New York state athletic commission, demanded that he do so did Louis acquiesce.

COURTROOM BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(UP)—Two men were shot and killed today in court Commissioner Kurt Kauffman's courtroom in the hall

Schmeling peeled off his trunks with the abandon of a Huck Finn going into the swimming hole. Louis will wear black trunks, Schmeling purple.

For their last fight Louis scaled 198 and Schmeling 192. Schmeling's weight today was a surprise. He had been expected to weigh at least 195.

Those who pleaded were:

One of the victims was identified tentatively as Attorney J. Irving Hancock, believed to have been the defendant in a legal action. The court commissioner is an arbiter in matters involving divorce and alimony payments.

Water Usage War Flares Again

the farm bureau, whereupon it was passed.

Not Specific

Murphy said yesterday that farm bureau representatives on the compromise committee had not consented to the nine inches of water per acre allowed the gun clubs under the licensing ordinance. Inasmuch as surrounding farm lands used only 2.6 acre inches per year, farm bureau representatives contended that the gun clubs should be limited to such use, he said. But about that time the supervisors became engaged with the budget, and later with a bond issue, and committee meetings on the gun club ordinance ceased, he said. Along in October the licensing ordinance was passed, providing "nine inches" of water maximum for the gun clubs, without specifying whether this meant acre inches or "nine inches in a bucket," said Murphy.

W. A. Mauehan, water district director, remarked that the water district had been told nothing of the pending ordinance, and that it had no provision for its own enforcement. Gun clubs are disregarding it and nobody is paying any attention to them, he declared.

Seeks Opinion

Chairman Smith, who was absent when the licensing ordinance was adopted by the board, said he would not favor keeping the ordinance on the statute books if it is illegal, and requested an opinion from District Attorney Menton.

Reinstate Old Law

If repealed, the licensing ordinance would make way for reinstatement of the former ordinance prohibiting non-beneficial use of water, defining such non-beneficial use, and providing penalty for violations. This ordinance, once used against the gun clubs successfully, has been upheld in the state supreme court.

The later licensing ordinance, under which gun clubs were licensed and allowed to use up to nine inches of water per year, represented a compromise with the gun clubs, after which they threatened to resort to agricultural use of that amount of water unless the county capitulated to their demands, it was recalled today. Gun club representatives pointed out that the law permitted use of water for agricultural purposes up to nine acre inches; that the gun clubs were not using nearly that much for their duck ponds, but if not permitted to continue operating as gun clubs they would retaliate by using their full legal limit in raising crops. Under the threat the compromise ordinance was worked out and passed.

the jurisdiction of the metropolitan area, would be taken by that court.

Observers pointed out that if the countess desired action by the chief of police in some town such as Southampton, a port of entry, she would apply to the Bow Street court. It was rumored that the threat came from abroad.

2-Year-Old Son

At 4:30 p. m. Scotland Yard told the United Press that it still was without knowledge of any kidnapping threat. An official said that "so far as we are concerned, it has nothing to do with us and we have not been called in."

The son of the countess and her Danish husband is named Lance and is two years, three months old.

When Death Drops From the Skies In Canton; A Big Bomb Explodes

Scenes like this were constant in Canton, as Japanese airmen showered bombs on the crowded South China metropolis, to kill nearly 9000 persons. A Japanese plane had unleashed another cargo of death over the area around the Wongsha Station, and a huge bomb is shown as it exploded. This station was a continuous target for the Nipponese airmen.

U. S. Urged To Act British Ships Sunk By Rebels

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—(UP)—The state railroad commission announced today it had filed a brief in Washington, D. C., with the Interstate Commerce Commission, charging that proposed increases in freight rates for California deciduous fruits and vegetables were unjust and discriminatory against California farmers.

No Casualties

There were no casualties on either ship.

The attack today came at dawn while insurgent planes flew up and down the coast, bombing harbors, cities and towns.

It could not be determined whether the raiders were the same ones which attacked Barcelona at 4 a. m. and again 20 minutes later, taking a heavy toll of casualties.

40 Known Dead

First reports of the Barcelona bombings said that between 35 and 40 persons were killed, but later dispatches indicated that the death total would be much higher.

More than 100 bombs were dropped in the first raid alone. They were directed principally at populous quarters on the southern and northern outskirts. More bombs were dumped on Barcelona and Santa Coloma. Twenty-one bombs fell into the sea.

And Air France commercial plane from Toulouse was forced to fly through an anti-air barrage of fire before landing at Barcelona.

The operating surgeon, whose name was withheld at his request, was confident that the operation would be a success, although definite results cannot be determined for a week or more.

Predict Spread Of Pension Plan

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—(UP)—Seven thousand delegates to the third national convention of the Townsend pension movement broke into tumultuous cheers today when told by a speaker that "the Townsend plan is sure fire legislation for the next session of congress."

Charles Newell, national representative to the convention from Ohio, told the delegates that the "Townsend plan is increasing by leaps and bounds in the state of Ohio."

He received an ovation when he sounded above the din that "Four congressmen are assured and more than one half of the 24 national representatives are predicted to go Townsend."

ALLOTMENTS REPRESENT PRESIDENT'S APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(UP)—Public Works Administration officials explained today that first allotments announced today in the new recovery drive represent Presidential approval of applications from cities and other subdivisions for federal funds for project construction.

Translating the new recovery drive into action, the officials said PWA will follow this procedure:

Will Make Offers

PWA will follow up allotments shortly with "offers" to applicants. When signed by the government and the local agency, the offer constitutes a contract, confirming the approval and conditions of allotments.

Allotments in all cases will not coincide with previously announced figures. Some localities have cancelled projects for which they applied. Others recently revised their plans to seek more or less money without knowledge of PWA. In some cases PWA engineers revised the local estimates and plans.

May Change Allotments

In such instances, applicants may file a supplemental application which, if approved by PWA, will be followed by an amendatory allotment and a revised offer.

Absence of a project from the lists approved this week does not necessarily mean that a project is rejected. Officials indicated that comparatively few of the 3000 pending applications will not be accepted.

AIDS ON WORK IN S. A. CANYON

Paving the way for appointment of a resident engineer and an assistant to supervise construction of the Santa Ana canyon highway and railroad relocation, the board of supervisors late yesterday passed a motion by Supervisor N. E. West to include such employee classifications in the county personnel ordinance. The resident engineer classification calls for a salary of $260 per month; the assistant being rated at $230 per month.

Supervisor John Mitchell suggested that engineers would not be needed, and that inspectors might be able to handle the work, the plans and specifications having been prepared. Chairman Smith and West held that the supervision would require engineering ability, and that the county is responsible to the state and Santa Fe railway company for following plans and specifications.

Mitchell and Supervisor Steele Finley observed that the state would have its engineers on the job to see that it is done right. "You bet the state will," said Smith. "And if the job isn't done right, the state engineer will not talk to the contractor, but will come to this board to get action. If the work isn't done right, the county will be in a jam."

Finds Auto Gone Following Mishap

William Stettenbenz, 18, Long Beach, was startled yesterday when he returned to the scene of an automobile accident in which his car was damaged and a woman injured at Garden Grove boulevard and Hanson road. His car had been stolen, according to his car theft report to sheriff's officers. But an investigation revealed California Highway Officer Ben Craig had sent the car to the Penhall garage, Westminster, because it was a traffic menace. Stettenbenz then was ticketed on a charge of reckless driving. His car and one driven by Etta M. Davis, 53, Long Beach, had collided, injuring Miss Nellie Coleman, 63, Long Beach.

Inspector Gives Permit To Self

Who checks up on the building inspector when the building inspector wants a permit to build a building?

This question was solved in short order yesterday when Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen issued a permit for the construction of a $200 addition to his garage to Building Inspector Harold Rasmussen. The addition to the garage will be erected by Building Inspector Rasmussen at 1415 Louise street.

Building Inspector Rasmussen is building the building to house wood-working machinery and building material.

Drunk Driver Is Given Six Months

When he faced Justice Cal D. Lester of Orange today, Clinton L. Baker, 26, of Taft avenue near Olive, was sentenced to a term of six months in county jail and ordered to pay a $500 fine for drunk driving in Santa Ana canyon June 13. Three months of the jail term and the total amount of the fine were suspended on condition Baker refrains from use of liquor for one year. His driver's license was suspended indefinitely. Judge Lester declared Baker must provide support for his minor child. California Highway Officer Vernon Barnhill made the arrest.

"You Can't Take 'Em Home"

That's what the Missus is telling Lyman Farwell in the above picture and he receives two goats for birthday presents from Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens. They were presented at a supper party given for the Farwells by the Paul Dinsmores.

COULDN'T GET HIS GOAT BUT THEY GAVE HIM TWO INSTEAD

They tried to get Lyman Farwell's goat—but it was all just a friendly kid!

At least that's what Mr. and Mrs. Farwell decided last night when they were supper guests of the Paul Dinsmores, now occupying the Farwell home on Yorba street, while the family spends the summer at the beach. The Dinsmores, you remember, lost their own Irvine ranch home and its furnishings by fire a few weeks ago. Anyway when their supper guests last night trooped out to the verandah to watch Lyman Farwell open birthday gift packages after he had realized through a general ously be-candled cake, that the party was really for him, the big event of the evening came.

In fact this was a double event—Conchito and Panchito, two lusty young goats, scrubbed until they shone, and flaunting big pink ribbons bows! Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens had taken the opportunity to "Say it with goats" for Farwell's birthday party!

"We knew Lyman always wanted a goat—from his little boyhood days," declared Stevens. "We couldn't let another birthday pass without this dream realized."

What was the result when it was put to a vote as to whether

AUTO AND BERRIES TAKEN BY MEXICAN

Lupe Figueroa, 25, Stanton Mexican, got into trouble in two counties last evening when he assertedly jumped into a parked pickup truck belonging to S. Suzuki, Los Angeles Japanese, at Stanton, and sped away with a load of ripe strawberries.

Y. Kubo, Montebello Japanese, who was in charge of the Suzuki truck and strawberries, said the car was stolen from in front of the Japanese barber shop, Stanton. Shortly after a police radio broadcast sounded from the sheriff's office radio station, California highway patrol officers of San Diego county reported they had stopped the Suzuki car with Figueroa at the wheel 12 miles north of Ocean side in San Diego county. They arrested him on a speeding charge and a charge that he was operating the car without driver's license.

Following prosecution at Ocean side, Figueroa will be returned to Orange county to face grand theft charges growing out of the car and strawberry thefts, officers said.

VERDICT REVERSED

Two weeks after he had been awarded second place in the Ivy league meet, Herb West, Columbia sprinter, received the first medal for the 100-yard dash from Jim Pender of Cornell, when moving pictures showed the judges had erred.

The bas had it—not only for the Dinsmores, hosts at the merry event, and the Farwells, their honor guests, but for Mrs. Farwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, themselves practical jokers without peer, the Edgar Elstroms, the Edward M. Halls, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stevens, donors of the gift par excellence.

MINNESOTA VOTERS GIVE BENSON LEAD

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 22.—(UP)—Gov. Elmer A. Benson ran up a lead of more than 6000 votes today in the gubernatorial contest of Minnesota's Farmer Labor party. With less than 600 small and scattered precincts of the state's total of 3739 remaining to be counted, it appeared certain that he had defeated Hjalmar Peterson, a former governor, for the nomination.

Totals Tabulated

The totals from 3153 precincts tabulated by the United Press were: Benson, 185,838.

Peterson, 179,264.

Benson's majority, 6574.

For Peterson to overcome the governor's lead in the remaining count, it would be necessary for him to poll a majority of more than 11 votes in each uncounted precinct.

Stassen Easy Winner

Harold E. Stassen, of South St. Paul, was an easy winner in the Republican gubernatorial contest. With 3053 precincts reported, he held an advantage of more than 40,000 votes over his nearest opponent, Martin A. Nelson, of Austin. The Democratic gubernatorial race still left some room for doubt, but it was believed that Thomas Gallagher of Minneapolis was the winner in the six man field.

With 3035 precincts tabulated, the vote was:

Gallagher, 19,321.

Fred Schlippl, St. Cloud, 16,548.

Michael F. Murray, St. Cloud, 14,660.

The Benson-Peterson race was one of the most thrilling in state history. United Press tabulations showed the lead changing six times.

GULDAHL COLLECTS

Ralph Gulda's confidence brought him $360 as a result of a $45 bet on himself at 8 to 1 in the United States Open.

To Resign

A. A. Hardy, pictured above, will resign from the Santa Ana Traffic Safety Commission at the next regular session of city council meeting July 5.

HARDY TO QUIT SAFETY BOARD

A. A. Hardy, one of the original members of the Santa Ana Traffic Safety Commission, has tendered his resignation from the group to Mayor Fred C. Rowland subject to approval of the city council. The Register learned today.

Formal presentation of the resignation will be made at the next regular session of the city solons on July 5.

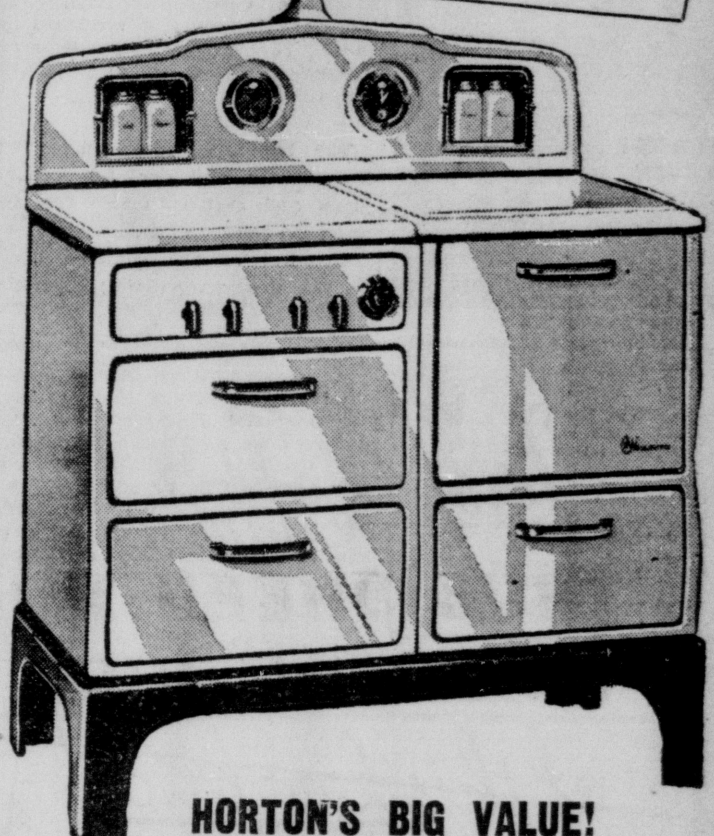

Chairman Elmer Heidt, Mayor Rowland and other members of the commission are considering the name of Carl Mock, local realtor, as the successor to Hardy. Mock indicated to The Register that he would accept the post if the appointment were made.

None Injured In Accident Tuesday

None was injured at Fifth and Laurel, Route 3, Santa Ana, at 9 p. m. yesterday, near the Nermal grocery store and market when a car driven by Ysa Adame, 121 Laurel, collided with the rear of a parked truck in charge of Pete Castro, Route 4, Santa Ana, sheriff's officers reported. The officers, when an argument ensued, advised the motorists that a civil action could be taken.

TWO SENT TO JAIL AS DRUNK DRIVERS

Three men were jailed here yesterday, two of them to begin serving terms on charges of drunk driving.

J. B. Adams, Santa Ana, whose car was involved in a minor accident in which a car operated at Fourth and Ross by Arthur Cardon, Santa Ana, was damaged at 11:50 p. m. Monday, pleaded guilty yesterday before City Judge J. G. Mitchell and was sent to jail for a 75-day term. He had the alternative of paying a $150 fine.

Clarence R. Holbrook, 33, 416 South Spadra, Fullerton, was convicted in Fullerton and jailed by Fullerton officers to begin a 50-day term. At 2:15 p. m. yesterday, Benito Madrid, 27, Delhi, was arrested and jailed by Orange police to await drunk driving prosecution.

Protest Is Filed On Stunt Flying

Complaint against the aviators who flew planes and stunted over Santa Ana yesterday was entered with Santa Ana police by Mrs. R. G. Bond, 517 South Ross. Assistant Chief Harry Fink said he believed the planes were from the Reserve corps of the army at Long Beach and were stunting 4000 to 5000 feet above Santa Ana. The city ordinance prohibits planes from flying lower than 1500 feet above the city, officers said.

Threw Boy Over Cliff, Say Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Black, above, took Marvin Noblitt, 13, from his impoverished mother with a promise to give him a good home, insured his life for $5000 then threw him over a 385-foot precipice, Texas authorities charge. The Blacks were arrested while attending the child's funeral in Alpine, Texas.

TALBERT LAND OWNERS SEEK FINANCIAL AID FROM COUNTY

The Fountain Valley Land Owners Association, pointing out that their lands in the Talbert area are at the mercy of the next flood, with the Santa Ana river levees gone, went to the county supervisors for help yesterday. The supervisors, like Old Mother Hubbard, went to their financial cupboard but found it bare.

The plea of the Fountain Valley group is being echoed all along the river, the supervisors indicated. Flood Engineer M. N. Thompson estimated that $770,000 will be required to repair the Santa Ana river levees, and another $75,000 to $100,000 would be required for protection on other streams.

At present, the Talbert delegation was told by Chairman Willard Smith, the county is hoping to get an allocation from the state's $5,000,000 emergency fund, but this $5,000,000 must be stretched to cover $50,000,000 in damage throughout the state, so prospects are uncertain.

Prepare Plans
The board yesterday instructed the county surveyor to prepare plans and cost estimates for the proposed Dana Point sewer project. Renewal of the county's lease on the Ramona building in Santa Ana, from the Irvine company, was authorized. It is used by WPA departments.

A request from the National Congress of Rivers and Harbors for financial contribution to its program was, of necessity, rejected. Chairman Smith pointed out that, while this organization had extended Orange county invaluable aid in furthering its flood control and harbor projects, no legal way for contributing public funds to the program was open. The board authorized a letter of appreciation instead of money.

Breakfasters To Witness Dances

Unusual dances will be presented at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club at 7:30 a. m. tomorrow at the Main cafeteria, according to Howard Straw, program chairman.

Robert Waite, accompanied by his sister, Mildred Waite, will give a novelty came tap dance and Miss Lola Marie Harmon, accompanied by Miss Monty Thornton, will entertain with soft shoe dances. Hunter Leach will preside at the meeting.

Youth Arrested After Accident

Following an accident on Orange-thorpe between Brookhurst and Euclid avenues at 8 p. m. yesterday when Pedro Mireles, 23, Norwalk, suffered lacerations of the right hand and left forearm, Mireles was treated at county hospital, then booked at county jail by highway patrol officers on a drunk charge.

Jose Morales, 36, Downey, driver of the car, was slightly injured. According to reports, the car, traveling 60 miles per hour, struck a cement water standpipe and overturned several times.

WRIGHT'S LEASE ON AIRPORT CANCELLED

The county became part owner of a barley crop on its unused airport late yesterday, by cancelling a lease held by Floyd Wright on the property. Wright had subleased to another party, who had, in turn, subleased to the barley planter. No lease rental had been paid, it was stated, so the violated lease was cancelled, and the county is growing barley on shares.

HOME COMING
The board yesterday appointed Supervisor Harry D. Riley to represent it at the home coming reception in honor of Congressman Harry Sheppard, at Riverside June 28.

ORDER SURVEY
Approval was given a WPA project application, involving a survey to locate old corners and boundary lines for county roads. The $1194 project will employ six field men, a stenographer, clerk, and two engineering draftsmen. The federal share is $7844. The county will pay the salary of the party chief, $2160.

NAME COMMITTEE
Chairman Willard Smith was empowered to appoint a board committee of three members, to act upon Prado basin land purchases between board meetings.

PROBE PROTEST
Supervisor N. E. West was appointed by the board to investigate the county's responsibility for alleged dumping of sewage by the cities upon private lands. Action was taken after Charles Grisct had protested the asserted dumping of sewage of his ranch south of Talbert.

The proposed household aid project application to WPA was approved. This involves a county expenditure of $1201, providing work for 50 women for one year.

Forgotten Man Of Mat On New Wrestling Card

Although he wrestles without a mask or any other disguise, the identity of the mysterious Mr. X, who wrestles Benny Wilson tomorrow night at the Orange County Athletic club remains a secret.

"The fact that Mr. X wears no disguise and is still unidentified in spite of the fact that he wrestled here last week just proves that the public soon forgets athletes when they retire from competition even if the retirement is for only a short time," Promoter "Bud" Levin said.

"A few years ago Mr. X was one of the better known figures in the sporting world. He is not a native of Texas but, when he retired from the wrestling game he moved to Amarillo. Several months ago he decided to make a 'come-back'."

Headlining the card on which Mr. X appears, Pat O'Brien and Bob Kenston, wrestling as a team, meet Bob Montgomery and Ken Hollis. Don Sebastian meets Fritz Hansen.

Have you lost your far horizon,
Does the future hold no lure,
Does your heart but seek things
bygone—
Come! Let Hawkeye be the cure!

"Hawkeye always gives you something to look forward to," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "the next winner is always yours," he concluded modestly. A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most fortunately so, as attested by one and all, Hawkeye fans point proudly to his glowing record as No. 1 handicapper, bar none, and to the fact that Hawkeye horses always win, and aver that yesterday was merely another one of those rare exceptions which but prove the rule when his astute play, Gallacly, failed to score.

The astute play for today: Two coconuts across the board on Kum-reight in the fourth race. The financial standing:
Original bankroll .....$250
Bets won .....15
Bets lost .....9
Bankroll to date .....$257

She's only 19 and slim and pretty—but she lugs a 40-pound pack and a canoe that a lot of men couldn't handle. Marie Sarkipato, girl guide of Ely, Minn., celebrated her 19th birthday by taking four girl friends on a 100-mile canoe trip into the wilderness of northern Minnesota. Marie is pictured above on the Newton Lake portage.

Police News

A burglar who broke into the Jess Merritt service station, Seventeenth and Main, Monday night or early yesterday, was being sought by local police today. The burglar obtained $45 cash, left another $17 untouched, and escaped. Officers L. H. Nicholson and Richard Bradley are investigating.

Burglars who entered the home of Mrs. C. A. Tucker, 312 Fairview, by removal of a front window screen, last night, evidently were frightened away before they could obtain loot, Officer Harry Prichard, investigator, reported. Escape was made by way of the window they had opened.

Police today sought a thief who recently stole a bellows duster with silver nozzle valued at $22.50, from R. P. Mitchell, 716 East Fifth street. The duster was taken from Mitchell's nearby garage. The duster is an "American Beauty" made by the Los Angeles Chemical company, Mitchell said.

Dan Grosman, Anaheim, was fined $8 yesterday by City Judge J. G. Mitchell after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding.

HAND INJURED

Ray Singleton, Los Angeles man of 1250 East 100th street, suffered a badly mangled hand this morning while working with machinery at Santa Ana Woolen mills, attendants at Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he was being treated, reported.

DOUGLAS AIRCRAFT CHIEF NEAR DEATH

His many friends, including members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce aviation committee who recently conferred with him, expressed sorrow at learning that Harry Wetzel, 50-year-old vice president and general manager of the Douglas Aircraft company, was near death in Santa Monica hospital early today. Wetzel was subjected to an emergency operation by Dr. Charles Tolin and two assistants. Dr. Tolin said the operation was undertaken as a last resort when Wetzel, ill for some time, began sinking as a result of peritonitis which followed intestinal rupture. Dr. Tolin was assisted by Drs. C. E. and John Rooney.

Mrs. Wetzel, at her husband's bedside, said that their only son, Harry, Jr., is flying to the west coast from Cornell university, where he is a student.

All alumni are invited to bring their families and a basket lunch and come to Sycamore Grove at 4702 N. Figueroa, Los Angeles, where the annual Kansas State College Alumni picnic will be held, starting time is 4 p. m.

Milligan Denies Wages Statement

Ben Milligan, who unsuccessfully urged the county supervisors yesterday to increase the wage scale for common labor on the Santa Ana canyon highway relocation project from 60 cents per hour to 65 cents, today denied that a 75-cent wage scale he exhibited, for a radio tower project, was for the county radio tower already constructed. The 75-cent scale, he said, was recently established for a radio tower not yet constructed.

ZONING PROGRAM

Residents of the district between Laguna Beach and Morro Bay late yesterday made formal request to the county supervisors for a zoning program. Request was made that the county planning commission study the proposal to create a zoning district in that area, which includes Emerald Bay, and coastal lands of the Irvine company.

RESERVATIONS ASKED

All delegates to the Youth Temperance Silver Jubilee convention in the Memorial Methodist church Friday, Saturday and Sunday were urged to contact Miss Elizabeth Wyant, 523 West Walnut street, Santa Ana, or phone 5259W for reservations for the banquet Friday night at 6:30 p. m.

BOYS WARNED OVER SHOOTING CRACKERS

Three times yesterday, Santa Ana police were called upon to quell firecracker shooting disturbances, they reported. At 4:40 p. m. Officer Daniel M. Jones was called to 17th and Main where, according to a citizen's complaint, boys had been celebrating the Fourth of July all day. But they had ceased firing when Officer Jones arrived. Shortly after noon, Officer W. H. Heard was called upon to stop boys from shooting firecrackers in an alley between Birch and Broadway and Camille and Bishop but the boys had gone. At 7:40 p. m., on complaint of an unidentified person, Officers J. W. Foster and H. E. Holmes went to the 800-block of East Third where they found several small boys celebrating. The boys said they wouldn't disturb the neighborhood again.

SCIENCE TAKES TRAIL OF PERIL

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The story of the escape of a party of scientists trapped atop 7,000-foot Mount Doi Pha Hom Pok in Siam by forest fires is told in a report by a Smithsonian Institution expedition.

The party, led by Dr. H. G. Deignan, climbed the mountain in search of rare birds, mollusks and insects. Forest fires cut off their retreat. The scientists escaped by going over a precipitous cliff.

The incident was one of the many thrilling experiences recounted by members of 24 expeditions sent out last year by the Smithsonian in search of natural history and archeological specimens to add to the national collections.

Other reports told of bitter cold on the Kola Peninsula of Arctic Russia, dense rain and forests and thorn-covered plains of Venezuela, the fog-wrapped Aleutian Islands, ancient ruins of villages of Indian cannibals in the Virgin Islands, an underground river of stygian darkness in Barbados.

Rare Birds Captured
Dr. William M. Mann, director of the National Zoological Park, brought back nearly 2,000 exotic birds, mammals and reptiles from East Asia.

Charles W. Gilmore explored a fossil reptile bed near the Manti National Forest in Utah. Excavations resulted in the discovery of one new species of giant dinosaur with a skull 6 feet long.

Dr. Charles E. Resser explored rock formations half a billion years old in New York, Vermont and Quebec. He found fossils of some of the oldest known forms of life.

Dr. Resser's discoveries proved conclusively, officials said, that the Arctic Sea once extended along the present chain of the Appalachians as far south as Alabama. The Adirondacks were low-lying islands in this ancient sea.

Dr. Alexander Wetmore made extensive bird collections in Venezuela and Gerrit S. Miller Jr., made a large collection of mammals in Panama. Dr. Robert A. Bartlett collected marine invertebrates along the flower-covered summer coast of Greenland.

Dr. Waldo L. Schmidt told of a strange hunting expedition for biological specimens in the Barbados underground river flowing through a canyon 57 to 75 feet below the surface of the earth.

Follow Underground River

"Using a crazy old craft that one of our guides pulled up from the bottom of the river and bailed out, we went on for three or four hundred yards in stygian darkness which was only intensified by the flickering torch I held until we came to a waterfall where a thick stream of water poured over a noisy cascade," he said.

"It dropped down 15 or 20 feet. This was the end of our journey, although one can go on for miles under the island, I was told."

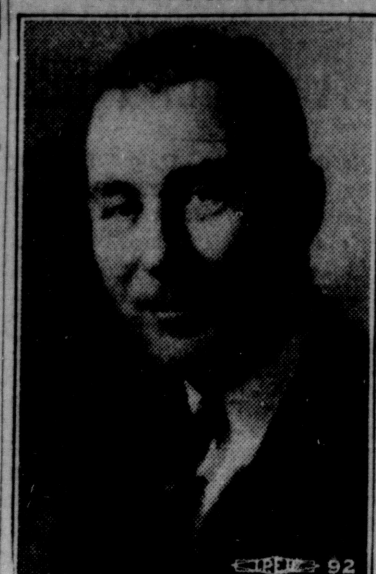

The first archeological survey of the island of Anegada, the most northerly of the British Virgin Islands, was reported by Herbert W. Krieger. Excavating several old village sites, he found indisputable evidence that some of these islands were once inhabited by a race of Indian cannibals.

"Outstanding at each site," he said, "was the overwhelming evidence of cannibalism. Complete human skulls and skeletal remains in quantity were mingled with turtle, bird and fish bones in the deep ash beds surrounding the primitive hearths."

The Virgin Island Indians are believed to have been exterminated about the middle of the 16th century by the order of Carlos, the Fifth of Spain, who may have been aroused by reports reaching him of their way of life.

During April, 1938, the 17 scheduled airlines in the United States carried 104,661 passengers and flew 5,621,818 miles. This is an increase of 72,349 miles over March, 1938.

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, of the nineteenth district, today officially announced his candidacy for re-election. A Democrat, Sheppard has no opposition for renomination by his party.

A BAD BOY

"Mrs. Rummie, your boy Jack hit our puppy with a stone and hurt the little creature so that he had to stay in the hospital for goodness knows how long. He's a thoroughly bad boy. I don't know what you expect to do with him, I'm sure, but we neighbors do wish you'd train him to let helpless animals alone."

Jack's mother turned pale. She heard the frate neighbor hang up the receiver with a smart click that spoke of anger abounding. Her boy Jack had stoned a puppy and crippled it. A wulf! He had been showing violent temper lately. The teacher had sent home word about his whacking a little boy on the head with a chair rail—for no apparent cause. He was having tantrums at home. And only five and a half. An incontinent criminal.

"Jack, did you stone Phil's puppy and hurt its back?"
"Yes."
"Did you mean to do it?"
"Yes."
"Didn't you know it was a bad thing to do?"
"Yes."

"I am ashamed of you. Ashamed of what the neighbors are thinking about you, of what the teacher and the children will say. How could you?"

"I don't care. I'll kill them every one if they get in my way. I hate them. I hate everybody. I'm not going to school any more. I'm never going anywhere any more. I wish I was dead and everybody else dead too. I don't care, I don't care."

When the storm subsided mother took Jack to the child specialist, who looked kindly at him through his specs and said, "How are you, Jack? I'm glad you came in. We won't need to keep you in here. Just as well leave you and me here and come back. Look at this, will you? What do you think of that engine, boy? I just got it. It has a bell, and a whistle, and goes by electricity. Hitch her up while I do this job over here. You'll find cars and whatnots in that locker."

"This is what the specialist found out about Jack that afternoon: He was five and a half. He had been taught to read when he was three; he had been sent to school at four; he had entered the first grade at five; he had been coached at home to keep well ahead of his class; he was sick to death of books, study, discipline, home routine and his life in general. He was tired of being made to stand Number One."

After he had rested and played for six months in the country, free of books, free of school standards, free of any of the artificial standards that grown up people had imposed upon him, he was a bright, faced, cheerful, willing, little boy—friends with all the world.

You cannot cheat a child of his childhood and expect him to enjoy the process. You cannot beat Nature. But you can cooperate with Nature; you can help a child grow according to Nature's plans for him. And that is the better way.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1938, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HARRY SHEPPARD IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, of the nineteenth district, today made official announcement of his candidacy for re-election. He is technically seeking the Democratic nomination, but is not opposed for renomination by his party.

MUSIC PROJECT IN CONCERT THURSDAY

"Scheherazade" is the special feature for the federal music project concert conducted by Leon Eckles tomorrow evening at 8:15 at the high school auditorium.

Rimsky-Korsakoff, the composer, has this to say about Scheherazade in "My Musical Life," translated into English by J. A. Joffe:

"The programme I had been guided by in composing the suite consisted of separate, unconnected episodes and pictures from The Arabian Nights, fantastic narrative of the Prince Kalendar, the Prince and Princess, the Bagdad Festival and the ship dashing against the rock with the bronze rider upon it. The unifying thread, written for violin solo, delineates Scheherazade herself as telling her wondrous tales to the stern Sultan."

Another instrumental highlight is "The Swan of Tuonela," also an orchestral legend, composed by Jan Sibelius. It takes its theme from ancient Finnish mythology relating the legend of Tuonela, Kingdom of Death, with its swirling river upon which a giant swan glides and sings its mournful song. Sibelius has translated into commanding music the unearthly melancholy of the swan's song, delineated chiefly by the English horn which Mr. Cecil Tozier will play.

The choral program has for its feature Harvey Gaul's cantata, "The Singers," inspired by Longfellow's poem. Further enhancing the exceptional program are "He's Gone Away," a song of the south mountains, "Moon-Marketing," set to lyrics by Richard Le Gallienne; Vaughan Williams' "Just as the Tide Was Flowing," and Elgar's

Postage Stamp Is Conscience Aid

DECATUR, Ind. (UP)—A conscientious-stricken farmer paid a rural postman 3 cents with this explanation:

"Several years ago I sent a letter through the mails using a stamp on which I had erased the cancellation marks. I want to reimburse Uncle Sam for that."

"My Love Dwelt In a Northern Land."

Town Sans People On Maps 52 Years

ORLANDO, Fla. (UP)—In 1886, when Toronto, Fla., near here, was first named by one of the engineers supervising the construction of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, the population was zero.

Now, 52 years later, it is still uninhabited.

It is represented on all official maps and is served by two railroads and a trunkline highway.

BLUEPRINT FOR WAR IS DRAWN

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Two Louisiana officers have completed a plan to put wartime mobilization on a "neighborhood basis."

They believe, and military experts who have discussed the plan with them agree, that men can be trained, equipped, and shoved into the front lines 60 days ahead of any World War record.

Brig.-Gen. Raymond H. Fleming, adjutant-general of Louisiana, and Col. Oswald S. McNeese, former state adjutant-general now on duty in Washington, figured out the new method of mobilization. They would divide the state into 204 areas. In the old war department plan, Louisiana was divided into 11 recruiting centers.

When the nation declared war, the governor of the state would issue orders and civic clubs, patriotic organizations and other local groups would go into action, signing recruits.

It would eliminate the plan's authors believe, some of the friction that appears when the war department "sends strange sergeants and strange men into strange towns among strangers to hang out a sign and put up a flag and wait for people to volunteer."

A visiting group of officers discussed the plan in detail here for 10 days. Col. Harry C. Kramer of Washington, spokesman for the officers, said it was the first time such a plan had been received by the war department and it "stands highest in favor of any such plan."

"Louisiana led the nation as the first state to prepare and submit such a plan," Kramer said. "The war department and Gen. Malin Craig as chief of staff, were tremendously impressed with it. We expect its adoption soon. It is ready to work today in many of the 48 states."

LATE NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

BOARD NAMES
POLICEWOMAN

ORANGE, June 22.—Mrs. Myrtle Bay, new executive secretary of the Orange Welfare board, was appointed as city policewoman by the city council at a called meeting Tuesday afternoon, following a resolution to that effect introduced by Councilman Carl Carlson.

The resolution also provided for a monthly salary of $85. The former welfare secretary and policewoman, Mrs. Clara Haines, who resigned in May, was paid $95 per month in all, with $75 designated as salary and $20 as expense for calls made in her car. Mayor A. C. Boice strenuously objected to the $85 pay rate and sought to eliminate the $20 car expense. However, the resolution was adopted with Mayor Boice and Councilman Henry Bandick voting against it.

A petition from the Veterans Welfare board asking the city to cancel taxes on certain property owned by the board was denied by the board. Attorney Gordon C. Johnson stated that the law provides for the cancellation of such taxes.

C. L. Barkdull, public accountant, was appointed to audit the city's books at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

The proposed franchise asked by the Southern Counties Gas company was held for further consideration and may be granted at the next regular meeting on July 5 at 7 p. m.

Permission was given the Veterans' Club of Foreign Wars to sell fireworks provided they secure a city selling license.

Class Conducts

Mrs. Turner was assisted by her daughter, Miss Marcella Turner, and the following committee: Mrs. Lotta Brandon, Miss Fernie Sumner, Mrs. H. F. Taylor, Mrs. Clyde Watson.

The group made baby dresses for the Rev. and Mrs. Loren Hansen who take with them to use in their work when the Hannas return to their mission in Siam. They completed a quilt for the Hannas and started small girls' dresses to be given to migrant workers in this state.

The hostesses served a dessert course and devotions were led by Mrs. Anna Divilly. Mrs. Ethel Nikette, teacher, was present, as was Mrs. Owen Smith, class president.

FARM CENTER MEMBERS TOLD OF CONDITIONS IN MEXICO

ORANGE, June 22.—Conditions in Mexico were outlined by George Kellogg, of Yorba Linda, at the closing meeting of the West Orange Farm center last night. Kellogg went to Mexico recently with a group of Southern California avocado growers.

The trip was made for the purpose of placing a plaque on the fuerte avocado tree at Atlixco, Mexico, from which Carl Schmidt obtained buds which started the fuerte avocado here. Schmidt sent the buds to the Indian Gardens of Pasadena, the speaker said, and from there, the trees were obtained for the first fuerte grove in the world, 1913. The grove is now owned by Henry Tuffree.

Contrasts Cited
The speaker told of the great contrasts in Mexico, the magnificent churches, some with solid silver candlesticks which weigh a ton, and one with a solid onyx floor and ballustrade, set side by side with hovels in which live peons in the most abject poverty.

Kellogg stated that he believes that the civilization of Mexico is turning backward instead of going forward, as all progress in that way has been done through foreign capital, but now no capital is available, due to the seizure of property by the government. Even wealthy Mexicans feel that their property may be taken at any time, so no new projects are started privately, he said.

Jack Phillips of the Meglin studios, was master of ceremonies of the musical program and introduced Betty Courtney, who gave two tap dances and one toe tap dance, accompanied by Mrs. Esther Shields. Vina Mae Harner, 4, of Santa Ana, sang two songs, and played an accordion solo. Helen Taylor sang and tap danced.

Motion pictures of the March flood were shown by Max Cory. The pictures were taken by H. Clay Kellogg, of Garden Grove, who could not be present.

President John Meyer conducted the business meeting during which Mrs. Perry Grout, chairman of the home department, was presented with the green coffee server won by the center at the farm bureau picnic as second prize for attendance. Henry Harichs gave the directors' report.

CLASSES TO OPEN

Investigation Of Blaze Is Sought

Mrs. L. Martin, rancher at Seventeenth and Berrydale, whose chicken house, valued at $1000, burned this week, had $800 insurance on the building, she told sheriff's officers. She believed the fire may have been of incendiary origin and asked an investigation, according to Deputy Sheriffs William Trapp and Vern Mohn G. F. McKelvey, sergeant of the sheriff's squad, investigated and reported yesterday there was no evidence of incendiaryism to be found.

CHRYSLER HAS DYNAMOMETER TO TEST BRAKES

DETROIT—(Special)—An outstanding example of the part played by automotive research in making driving safer is the new development of a brake dynamometer that gives brakes three to ten times more torture than they would receive under the toughest kind of driving conditions.

This test machine, developed and just completed by Chrysler corporation in its engineering research laboratories, is now being used to test the hydraulic brakes on the new De Soto for 1938 with greatest exactness than any brakes have ever been tested before.

Powerful Machine
So powerful is this new machine that it develops a maximum of 2500 brake horsepower, more than that of a large transport airplane. It can create conditions equivalent to a 10-ton truck traveling 85 miles per hour and an ordinary car going upwards of 100 miles per hour.

With the dynamometer setting up such conditions, a single De Soto hydraulic brake is put to the severe test of stopping it. Hour after hour it works up against this torture machine, which can build up a maximum energy of 2,970,000 foot pounds—equivalent to the energy of a one and a half ton weight dropping from the top of the Empire State building.

Under a beating like this De Soto brakes must prove they are able to meet the highest standards of endurance, pedal pressure, temperature effects, controllability and sensitivity.

Carefully Controlled
Everything about this new brake tester is exactly controlled. Stops are made automatically, car conditions are set up automatically and readings are recorded automatically.

A large control panel, about eight feet high by 20 feet wide, is its "brain." It records the readings on an elaborate set of instruments, registering the temperatures reached by the brake parts; the applied line rate, or pedal pressure; the speed at any instant during the stop; the stopping time, and the torque.

Besides recording this data, the "brain" automatically controls all operations of the dynamometer. It applies and releases the brake and governs the motor speed.

When the dynamometer is in operation, the motor spins a set of huge flywheels, which are adjustable to the different conditions set up by all weights and speeds of automobiles. A single brake is tested at a time, and conditions are varied to give each brake maximum torture.

OIL HORNS, WIPERS

Motor-driven horns and windshield wipers should have the terminal brushes and commutator cleaned and oiled occasionally, according to the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. ## Political Candidates Take Over Auto Parley

Pictured above is a part of the group of political candidates who last night "took over" the meeting of the 200 members of the Orange County Automobile Dealers and Automotive Parts Wholesalers association at the Santa Ana Country Club. Standing, left to right, Joel Ogilvie, J. B. Tucker, H. G. Ames, James Sleeper, George Dunton, automobile dealer; John Lamb, and James E. Allen. Seated at the head of the table, left to right, are W. F. Menton, Fred Sidebottom, Earl Abbey, Franklin West, master of ceremonies; J. W. McCain, president of the association; Otto Haan, automobile dealer; and Jesse Elliott.

AUTO DEALERS MEETING TAKEN BY POLITICIANS

Throwing up his hands in mock disgust, J. W. McCain, president of the Orange County Automobile Dealers and Automotive Parts Wholesalers association, last night turned over the meeting of his organization to Franklin West, candidate for superior court judge, who introduced numerous other political candidates who had "sneaked" into the meeting at the Country club.

"I don't know how they got into our meeting," McCain said in his introduction of West, "but I believe it was the fault of Otto Haan."

Haan then hired West as an attorney to represent him. "Since they are here, I don't suppose there is anything we can do about it," Haan said.

Candidates Introduced
West then took over the meeting and introduced incumbent candidates and other candidates with the ironic statement that "this was part of the 'crew' that run the county."

Present office holders who are seeking re-election who were introduced included: Earl Abbey, John Lamb, James Sleeper, T. E. Stephenson, William Lambert, W. F. Menton, Jesse Elliott, Fred Sidebottom, W. K. Hillyard, H. G. Ames, and James L. Allen.

Candidates seeking office presented included Joel Ogilvie, J. B. Tucker and Franklin West.

More than 200 automobile dealers and members of allied industries were present at the meeting.

Buick Sponsors Louis-Schmeling Fight Broadcast

Sponsoring one of the largest sports broadcasts ever staged, which includes 146 stations of the red and blue networks of the National Broadcasting company, including stations in Canada and Honolulu, the nationwide Buick dealer organization is prepared for the Louis-Schmeling fight, at 8 p. m. tonight, Orange county time.

This is the fifth broadcast of a heavyweight championship fight broadcast by the Buick division of General Motors. As in the past, Buick dealers will establish "listening posts" in their showrooms and prominent places in their communities, and will otherwise identify their local businesses with the international broadcast.

With a total of 146 stations, Buick officials believe this is the largest sponsored broadcast ever staged for a major sports event. The largest previous broadcast sponsored by Buick included 115 stations of the red and blue N.B.C.

Reports Sale

GEORGE DUNTON

The old saying, "If a man builds a better mouse trap . . . the world will beat a path to his door if it be in the heart of a forest" has been demonstrated in Santa Ana this week, according to George Dunton, local Ford dealer, by the number of used cars that have been sold during Dunton's June used car sale.

"There are numerous reasons for a successful volume of sales," Dunton said. "First, give the customer full value for every dollar received."

"Second, make the wants of the customer a paramount issue. Third, when a used car is sold, represent the car exactly as it is. Fourth, render to the customer a complete 'after sales service.'"

"It has been an extreme pleasure to take care of the great number of new buyers as well as our regular owners of automobiles this week. The entire organization has done and is doing everything possible to sell 50 used cars by tomorrow night. The used car lots are located at 805 North Main street and at 115 South Main street, Santa Ana," Dunton said.

networks, when the Louis-Bradford fight was broadcast from Chicago.

Interest in the fight is at high pitch, according to reports received by W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager, from the dealer organization, and the executive believes that the event tonight will have one of the largest radio audiences on record.

ROAD LINKING U. S., ALASKA IS VISUALIZED

The dream of linking the United States by highway with its vast Alaskan domain is brought nearer realization by congressional action authorizing appointment of a commission to work out details with a similar group in Canada, advises a statement from the Automobile Club of Southern California.

As proposed the highway would commence at Hazelton, British Columbia, present terminus of the Cariboo highway, which extends 830 miles north from Vancouver. Aerial surveys have established a feasible route through Whitehorse and Dawson in Yukon territory, thence over the Alaska boundary to Fairbanks. The total length of road to be built would be about 1300 miles, costing about $20,000,000.

President Authorizes
In addition to providing communication by highway between the United States and Alaska, the new road would be a link of the projected series of connecting routes making up the International Pacific highway eventually to extend from the Arctic Circle to below the Equator. This, the longest highway on earth, was conceived and is sponsored by the automobile club. In addition to its importance to the United States, the road would open for Canada a present wilderness rich in natural resources.

Congress has authorized the President to appoint a commission of five members. They are to serve for two years, without salary, and work with any similar group named in Canada, in a study for "the survey, location, and construction of a highway to connect the Pacific northwest of the continental United States with British Columbia and the Yukon territory in the Dominion of Canada, and the Territory of Alaska." The commission is also authorized to cooperate in a study of financing the project.

The tortoise is one of the world's most perfect streamlined creatures, yet is one of the slowest.

Angeles Crest highway was opened last weekend clear and unrestricted to Red Box divide where it connects with the five-mile route in good condition to Mt. Wilson. The paved crest state artery will be opened again next weekend from 4:15 p. m. Friday through to Sunday night, reports the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and is expected to be opened week days after that time.

At present during the week travel is permitted on it for only eight miles north of Foothill boulevard at La Canada because of clean-up work underway. Property owners and persons on business who obtain permits from the state highway department office in Los Angeles are allowed through on week days. Eventually Angeles Crest highway will extend 46 miles across the scenic, virgin forests of the San Gabriel mountains to Big Pines recreation park.

Child Pedestrian Vacation Problem

Vacation time is warning to motorists that double care is necessary, states the Safety Department of the National Automobile Club. Children often forget to look both ways when crossing streets, and that leaves the problem of preventing accidents with children, in the hands of the motorist.

If a child should run in front of a car, the motorist may not be able to stop in time—even though his brakes are in good condition. Every motorist should bear this in mind when driving—for a moment's laxness may mean a lifetime of regret.

Friday's Schedule
Anaheim at Santa Ana; Orange at San Bernardino (Colon); Brea at Huntington Beach; Irvine at Whittier.

Behind the four-hit slinging of stocky Stanley Jacobsmeyer, Santa Ana upset San Bernardino's favored Ponies at the Municipal Bowl last night, 3 to 2, thereby gaining a rare game in the "Shaughnessy Playoff Derby."

Huntington Beach, the National league's leader, crushed Anaheim and put the Valencia within striking distance of the Stars. The clubs collide here Friday.

San Bernardino made a run in the first of the first inning on Weiser's single, Strain's sacrifice, a passed ball and Watson's infield out. Santa Ana moved ahead in its half. Weimer walked and Mott beat out a bunt. A passed ball advanced the runners. Wiener scored on Joe Koral's single and Mott came home while Weimer was throwing out Young.

What proved to be Santa Ana's winning margin arrived in the fifth when Mott tripled to right and tallied a minute later on Joe Koral's single, a line shot that Strain stopped, but fumbled and picked up too late to make a play anywhere.

San Bernardino got its second tally in the eighth. Nottingham, first up, parked a home run on the left field "shelf."

Bob Fowler fanned 14 Santa Anas but yielded 11 hits to Jacobsmeyer's 4. Fowler was in trouble in nearly every inning but was tough in the clinches. Santa Ana had two runners thrown out at the plate, left 12 stranded.

Orange's "home field jinx" prevailed for the seventh straight time as the Cubs muffed a 5-2 decision to the improving Whittier club. Orange is undefeated on the road, has yet to finish in front at home. The teams were 2-2 going into the eighth when Whittier generated three runs on bunched singles by Porter, Coats, Hanlin and Angelo.

With Wilson Seacord hurling steadily, Irvine punched out a 6-2 win over its old foe at Brea. Homers meant the difference between the clubs. Irvine picked up four runs in the sixth when "Chub" Sears hit a homer and then, after Cook and Wetzel got aboard, Ray Hapes blasted another four-ply.

Huntington Beach snapped out of a batting slump to bury Anaheim, 12-3. Botts blanked the Valencia until the Oilers had an eight-run lead and then gave way to "Fuzzy" Errington.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro, crack Eastern reinsman who rode Herbie M. Woolf's Lawrin to victory in the Kentucky Derby, will arrive at Jinglewood this week from New York, according to advices received today at the Woolf barn. He will have the leg up on Lawrin in the $50,000 American 3-year-old Championship next Wednesday.

"I put Arcaro up for the colts' final work so that he'll get the feel of the horse again," Trainer Ben Jones said.

Arcaro, under contract to the Greentree stable, will return to New York following the Championship, but it is quite likely that he'll whip right back out here by plane to ride Lawrin in the $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup July 16.

Close observers at the Kentucky Derby say that Arcaro's superb reinsmanship was one of the contributing factors to Lawrin's Derby triumph. The Greentree stable, incidentally, is performing in splendid form in New York.

Had there been any slip-up in the Arcaro engagement, Jockey Basil Jones would have drawn the riding assignment. He gave Lawrin a million dollar ride to beat Specity last Saturday.

In the meantime, the turf greys are still chattering in their beads about the intensive prep that Lawrin received before his race here. The colt had the "tack" on for seven straight days. He worked three-quarters Saturday, galloped Sunday, worked a mile Monday, galloped Tuesday and Wednesday, galloped Thursday, galloped Friday and worked a half the morning of the race. The prep was almost without precedent.

"I never saw a horse like him," Jones remarked, "and I never had to drill one like that in my life. He takes it all in stride, however, and is anxious for his feed tub when he gets through. He was nicker for his feed right after that hard race Saturday."

There is turmoil in the ranks of trainers with 3-year-olds in their barns these days. The con-

FIGHT SENTIMENT HERE ALMOST EVENLY DIVIDED
Joe Louis may rule as much as 2 to 1 over Max Schmeling on the country's major betting marts, but in tranquil Orange county you find fight sentiment almost equally divided. There are plenty of Schmeling backers here.

On the surface, this doesn't seem to be a hard one to analyze. Schmeling took everything Louis had two years ago, and still gave the black man a terrific beating. Can he do it again? Personally I don't think so, yet many of those I've asked—fellows who make a study of such things—believe Schmeling will repeat.

My reasons are routine. Louis is younger, faster. He ought to be smarter than he was in 1936 when he couldn't get away from Schmeling's overhand right. I also remember by the motion pictures one thing many forget: Louis really gave Schmeling a "working over" two years ago before Max stowed him away. Does he forget that Louis can punch. He has the best left hook of any fighter I've seen. Schmeling can hit too, and he has courage. He'll be fighting for what he thinks is the so-called Nordic supremacy. But after all he's only human. He has feet of clay. If Louis tags him right Schmeling will take the count just like anybody else, whether Mr. Hitler likes it or not.

With this worthy preamble out of the way (I just wanted to go on record with the rest of the gang) I give you the public pulse. Of some 33 interviewed by this column 13 believe Louis will win. Eleven pick Schmeling. Three were undecided. A curious fact is that none expects the fight to go the distance. Everybody I asked predicts a knockout. So that you'll know:

Jimmie Heffron, Anaheim sports editor, says he's better and Schmeling slower than two years ago. Anyway, they just aren't going to let that title get out of New York. I like Louis by a knockout.

Perry Maynard, Fullerton sports writer, says he's better and Schmeling slower than two years ago. Anyway, they just aren't going to let that title get out of New York. I like Louis by a knockout.

Ray Arguello, Orange sports editor, says he's better and Schmeling slower than two years ago. Anyway, they just aren't going to let that title get out of New York. I like Louis by a knockout.

'OHIO TINGE' Answering Questions About Fight
JOE TO COME OUT PUNCHING

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK—The major league pennant races had a definite "Ohio tinge" today with the Cleveland Indians commanding a two game lead in the American league and the Cincinnati Reds surging upwards from second place only a game-and-a-half behind the New York Giants in the National.

The Indians hurled back the Yankees yesterday, 10-5, with Bob Feller triumphing over "Red" Ruffing before 18,000. The defeat dropped the Yankees to third place, 2 1/2 games behind the league leaders. One of the season's crucial double-headers was scheduled for Cleveland's municipal stadium today with a crowd of 60,000 expected to see the Indians, with Johnny Allen and Mel Harder on the mound opposing the Yankees' "Lefty" Gomez and Monte Pearson.

Cincinnati climbed closer to the fading Giants by beating the league champions, 6-2, and frustrating Carl Hubbell in his third attempt to score his 20th major league triumph. Jim Weaver and "Bucky" Walters combined to pitch a four-hit game. Ival Goodman hit homer number 16 and Ernie Lombardi hit number nine.

Proposed improvements to the water system include aeration tanks, a booster pump station, force mains to reservoirs one and two and better distribution system on Balboa Island. This sewer system was installed in 1922.

SUES AUTO LAUNDRY BECAUSE OF SMOKE

An auto laundry that assertedly belches soot and smoke upon surrounding homes in Santa Ana was made the target of nuisance abatement proceedings, instituted late yesterday in superior court by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett of Santa Ana.

Blodgett filed suit against Ruth O'Malley, proprietor of the A.T.O. auto laundry at 1015 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, asking the court to restrain the operations of which complaint is made.

Approximately every other day, stated the complaint, oily and greasy soot and smoke comes forth in huge volumes from the establishment. This settled upon nearby homes and their contents, and belongings left in yards, it is stated. The smoke is declared to be injurious to health and offensive to the senses.

Simpson was apprehended by Tulare authorities on a traffic charge. He was being held on $5,000 bail pending instructions from Florida officers.

Four hundred eighty feet of oil well casing pipe, valued at $480 and reported by R. M. Ainsworth, contractor, as stolen from him while it was in Costa Mesa recently, has been found. Deputy Sheriff G. E. McKelvey said the material had been located at the Standard Pipe and Supply company, Signal Hill, but evidently had not been stolen but merely taken by someone who claimed ownership. Efforts were being made today, it was said, to establish ownership.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY PAYS COUNTY $336,891 IN TAXES

The Standard Oil company today paid Assessor James Sleeper its county tax on mineral rights, $336,891.

This amount, said Sleeper, does not include the oil company's tax bill for personal property, such as pipe lines, tanks, buildings, etc., which amount to a large sum additional. Nor does it include the tax paid to the city of Huntington Beach.

Localities of the county benefitting chiefly from the $336,891 payment for mineral rights include Fullerton school district, which receives $43,321, Fullerton city which receives $34,936, and Huntington Beach school district which receives $82,262. The tax, said Sleeper, is apportioned to the districts where the Standard leases are located.

Due to increases in the county tax rate and that of various school districts, the Standard Oil company's mineral tax this year was nearly $100,000 higher than last year, when it paid $252,545.

From 1921 to 1938, inclusive, Standard Oil company has paid Orange county a total of $11,416,558 in taxes upon mineral rights alone, besides probably another $30,000,000 to land owners as royalties, Sleeper said.

Mrs. Phyllis Russell Ponson, 19-year-old Laguna Beach mother, whose $1000 malpractice suit against Dr. A. H. Wightman, Laguna Beach physician, was denied by Justice K. E. Morrison, Santa Ana, today filed an appeal to superior court.

Mrs. Ponson claims that when she was expecting the birth of a child in 1936, Dr. Wightman, without making a proper examination of her condition, ordered her to a Santa Ana hospital, the baby being born in an automobile en route. He also performed a faulty operation on her afterward, she alleges.

Justice Morrison, in denying her suit, awarded Dr. Wightman $50 costs.

Condition of Misses Grace Sorenson, 17, and Marjorie Carnes, 16, both of El Modena, at St. Joseph hospital, was reported to be "a little better" today. They were injured Saturday night near Olive when cars driven by Wayne Gray, 20, El Modena, and Mrs. Freda Rogers, 35, Brea, collided. Mrs. Rogers and Miss Sorenson were critically injured, although Mrs. Rogers' condition was better today than that of Miss Sorenson.

CAMERA SHOTS ARE SCREENED IN TRIAL

A candid camera spread embarrassment into the trial of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Smith's damage suit against the National Biscuit company in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court late yesterday.

After Mrs. Smith had walked to the witness stand slowly and with apparent difficulty, holding her head and back while she testified, and once breaking into tears, as she told how injuries in a Santa Ana traffic crash had hampered her activities, the defense brought the camera into play.

Mrs. Smith had testified that she had been unable to take long auto rides, had been handicapped in her housework, and otherwise affected by her injuries.

Then the camera was set up in another courtroom, darkened for the occasion, and the jury was shown motion pictures of Mrs. Smith walking briskly about, hanging out her wash, getting into and out of cars. She was shown in a car crossing the border at Tia Juana, and later walking in and out of curio stores there; also in Balboa Park, San Diego.

William Sandell, Los Angeles detective, and his assistant, Mrs. Olive Anthony, who took the pictures, testified that they were taken early this month. The accident took place last January 21. Mrs. Smith had testified that her longest ride since had been to Elsinore.

The case went to the jury at 10:30 a. m. today. Early this afternoon the jury had not returned its verdict.

Timely War Film Shows Thursday At The Broadway

Perhaps the timeliest of the season's motion pictures and certainly one presenting the most tensely dramatic action is "Blockade," which comes to the Broadway theater tomorrow with Madeline Carroll and Henry Fonda in the starring roles. The background of this stirring photoplay is the Spanish civil war, although the central theme of the story is the romance of Miss Carroll and Fonda, both caught in the seething maelstrom of the conflict. The events of the story lose none of their exciting quality through the fact that the production preserves a strictly neutral attitude.

A cast headed by Herbert Marshall, Virginia Bruce and Mary Astor is featured in "Woman Against Woman," the second film on the double bill opening tomorrow. The story tells of a divorced man who takes his second wife to his home town where his first wife and child live. The second wife finds the town leagued against her and the first wife bent on making trouble, but her love for her husband gives her the strength to see the situation through.

The story opens with Miss Carroll arriving in Spain to find her father and an associate have been active in fomenting civil war. An intriguing spy plot is brewed in this thrilling, well acted film. The cast of "Blockade" includes Leo Carrillo, John Halliday, Reginald Denny and Katherine DeMille.

Tonight the Broadway closes with "Josette," gay and romantic musical comedy featuring Don Ameche, Simone Simon and Robert Young, and "The Saint of New York," thrilling mystery story starring Louis Hayward as the famous "Saint" of fictional fame.

Prognosticators have gazed into the crystal ball and have come up with the prediction that the silvery fish will appear on the opening day of the season, July 1.

Meat market proprietors are laying in an extra supply of weiners for it seems to be an old Spanish custom that every member of the family from grandmother down to the toddling youngster, he himself away for a beach barbecue to await the grunion run.

The following table lists the expected 1938 summer appearances:

July 1, Midnight to 1 a. m.

This Man, Joe Murray

BY WILLIAM CORCORAN Copyright, 1938, by William Corcoran; NEA Service, Inc.

CHAPTER XX

COMPANIONSHIP... comradship!

A stark thought came to Joe Murray. It came inevitably. It came often, clearer and clearer. It came and abided with him, unbidden. It had been with him a long time, he suddenly saw, unrecognized.

These stings, these rankling stabs... they were alive! They were not, they never could be, happiness and peace—because they were alive! The other, the happiness and peace, the visions: they were passionless and dead and unattainable. They were a drug and a delusion for a starving man, who was sick for the days of his strength and his plenty.

It was not Helen he yearned for any more. It was the past. Helen was dead, gone into limitless time; his love for her had not died, but was part of him; he would always love her and remember her in beauty, through all the years. Helen was not of the earth, she was beyond all passion; she was not real, she was a vision.

It was a vision he dreamed with... but it was Terry he lived with daily!

Realization rushed upon him, cataclysmic. It was Terry he wanted and hungered for.

He felt this interval of lingering dependence to be a shame on him, a recollection that must be wiped out. He had his manhood. He knew the ways of the road. He could make his way, wanting nothing from any man. He'd come right side up. There would be work. There would be need of more automobile bodies sometime, somewhere; there would be work and forgetfulness. Work and forgetfulness.

Not peace! He rebelled at peace, shattering the seductive visions. There was no peace—not in life. Life goes on, a fight and a struggle always, and the greatest torment, the greatest loss, is to be out of the struggle, out of the stream of it.

Neither life nor love have peace in them, though they both have surpassing beauty: the beauty of change, the beauty of growth, the beauty of a continuity, inscrutable and unending.

And this was Joe's groping avowal. He who had been out of the stream of it, out of the running... he was plunging back. This man, Joe Murray.

Joe Murray went foraging. When he found what he wanted, he brought it home to the hotel with him: a piece of cast-off leather, light and fairly pliable. It was treasure trove. He borrowed a pocket knife from the hotelman at the desk and went to work in his room.

He took off his shoes; they were in no state for the road, with holes large as quarters in the soles. He cut a piece of paper to a pattern and trimmed it till it slid inside one of the shoes easily and neatly. Then he laid the pattern on the strip of leather and hacked out a most practical inner sole.

HE was at work on the other shoe when there came a knock on the door. He had occasional visits from room neighbors; he called an invitation to come right in. The door opened, and he glanced up.

Slowly, numbly, he dropped the shoe, the leather, the knife.

"Terry!"

She came into the room, closing the door behind her. She was looking at him with the big brown eyes... looking at him. She was thin; there were big circles under the eyes; her shoulders drooped beneath a cheap red coat.

"Joe," she said, and stopped.

He looked scared, looked like a man who does not know what to do. She did it for him. She walked to him and sat down on his lap, sliding her arms around his neck and laying her head on his shoulder.

"Terry," he said. "God... Terry!" His voice would not function. He did not know what was happening to him, what was rocking him.

She knew. She said, "Joe—once, and suddenly began to cry, weakly, surrendering wholly. And he cried with her, because he couldn't help it. He was weak. He was unmanned.

It was some time before they were calm, with a kind of exhaustion. Slowly they got around to each of the other even to that extent. In the eyes of each of them there was a pain and a pity at what they saw. They were so thin, both of them, so older, so different from other days.

"Terry," said Joe huskily, "you floored me that time. You clipped me one. Right on the button."

"I'm glad," she told him. "I'm glad to know that I could."

"How did you get here?"

"I came in an airplane."

"Airplane?" bewildered.

"I flew all the way. I haven't slept in almost two whole days."

We flew all last night. I couldn't sleep anyway, coming to you."

"That costs money, Terry!"

"I know it. So I got it."

"How did you get it?"

"Stole it."

HE was utterly silenced by that.

She looked weary and said, "Oh, what does it matter, darling? I got here. I was afraid you'd be gone. Your mother told me. My father had a lot of money he won betting the races and I stole it. My own mother gave him more long ago than I'll ever see. I've waited months. If I knew where you were I'd have crawled there. If anybody could have told me, I'd have paid them a million dollars."

"Terry... but why? I'm broke. I'm in trouble. I haven't earned a dollar in too long to remember."

"What does all that matter?" she cried fiercely, exultantly.

"You're alive, I'm alive. We can be alive together. I only want to be dead if I'm away from you. I don't care if we starve—we can starve together. I don't care what happens if it happens to us together."

He bowed his head. He was blinded by a light; he was full of an awareness. He buried his face on her soft shoulder, out of sight. He was remembering... her small and intense persistence, her holding on like grim death with her small insinuating hands when she wanted something badly, very badly.

"Why, Terry?" he insisted.

"Because I love you, darling."

He was silent, holding her.

She added, "And because you love me."

There it was. It was so!

And Joe said, "What are we going to do, baby?"

And Terry told him, "Anything you say! We can do anything. Anything..."

And they sat there, together. And nothing mattered. Nothing. What could matter now? They could do anything. They could go home. They could go anywhere over a nation. They could find shelter in a field, love in the stars, strength in the wind. They could find work. They could live. They could do anything. Life was going on.

They were together. They were in love.

That is what this story is about. It is about love.

And that is where I come to an end. But the story does not. The story goes on, with a Terry and a Joe, and then another Joe, and beyond and beyond, another... forever.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, June 22.—Settin' Around (Paramount): Strange as it may seem, the most interesting persons in any studio are not the glamour girls, the personality boys, the producers, directors or technicians. The most interesting people are in the research department. They come up against some extraordinary problems and in the course of years, acquire amazing information.

For instance, in looking up data for "If I Were King," they discovered that courtiers of Louis XI possessed exquisite garments but wore them until they were filthy. Researchers left it up to the director to decide whether his actors should wear dirty clothes—and of course they do not. The department's biggest headache of recent weeks has been to keep off the fence out of political situations buried in "Paris Honeymoon." Politics in every country of this world were investigated because some country might well bar Paramount products in revenge for a minor slip.

Ironically, after a subject has been exhaustively examined, the director may decide to distort facts in the interest of entertainment. Again, since pictures are an international medium, great care must be taken in treatment of even historical situations and figures. Still, these departments do a wonderful work and if you find inaccuracies in any given film you may be sure it is not because the studio didn't know better. The research department has given them the truth.

The scene being shot on "Paris Honeymoon" set this morning showed Bing Crosby preparing for his wedding when in rushed Shirley Ross, his bride-to-be. "I win the bet," she cried, "we got over 30 salad forks for wedding presents. How about paying off?" "Well, here's something on account," agreed Bing and he seized Shirley and tried to kiss her. Unfortunately, he became entangled in her bridal veil and couldn't quite get to her. "It's all right," he grumbled sourly, "as soon as I can crawl into that damned tent with you." Bing's final remark wasn't in the script but Director Hogan liked it and would have included it in the picture had Bing not used that forbidden word.

Had a long talk with Director "Wild Bill" Wellman who is making "Men With Wings." There's a plane crash in the picture, he said, and it has made him lots of enemies. Seems that after due consideration he decided to fake it. You see the plane diving into the ground but don't see the crash because it dives behind a hangar. Actually the ship was pulled up at the last moment and landed safely. Later they loaded it up again and you have your crash. "About 100 pilots offered to crash the plane for me for $1500," Wellman complained, "but I wouldn't let them do it because I don't want to break their necks—unnecessarily. But you can imagine what happened—those pilots got sore and yelled to high heaven that I was taking bread out of the mouths of their wives and children."

Ran into an un-rehearsed scandal on the "If I Were King" set today—a situation which would have thrown good King Louis XI into a fine fury. Three men were banished from the "court" after they had been discovered sleeping in the queen's bed. The king didn't give a darn but the director did. The culprits were extras and were supposed to be working, not sleeping.

For "Artists and Models Abroad" there's a long marble bath which is filled brim-full with glistening

COAST ASSOCIATION HEARS J. C. REPORT

$465,000 WPA GRANT SOUGHT

Progress in the formation of a Union Junior College District for Southern Orange county and the establishment of an institution on a coastal site was reported at the Orange County Coast Association in Huntington Beach last night when D. K. Hammond, head of the Santa Ana Junior College, announced that the Santa Ana board of education had made application to W. Godkin, San Francisco, director of the W. P. A. for a grant of $465,000.

The Union Junior College committee agreed upon a figure of $1,120,000 as the cost of the college, and the Santa Ana board of education was the logical group to make the request for the Federal government grant, according to Hammond.

While Santa Ana does not want to give up its own junior college, Santa Ana cannot afford to carry on a program of education against the wants of the people of the southern part of the county. The city hasn't the funds and already has a great indebtedness," Hammond declared.

Nine Cent Tax

The tax rate of nine cents is expected to remain the same as it is now and therefore the proposed college would cost no more for the taxpayer, according to the figures worked out by the committee.

Hammond also announced that it is possible that a site will be donated for the college campus. Judge D. J. Dodge, Costa Mesa, gave figures regarding the cost of the proposed college, and the present attendance in the various junior colleges, and explained how the proposed new district started first with Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Laguna and Capistrano high schools districts and had grown to include Garden Grove, Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin.

Committee Works

J. S. Malcom, San Juan Capistrano educator, and instigator of the new movement announced the committee working out the plans. He announced that perhaps final plans will be presented at the next meeting to be held in Long Beach after the group had accepted an invitation extended by K. P. Fredricks.

Members of the association last night voted to have the advertising committee of the organization ask the board of supervisors to again establish the one-cent tax rate for advertising. That would increase the funds for advertising Orange county from $6500 to $19,000, according to Secretary Harry Welch, who pointed out the advisability of publicizing the county to bring tourists here which is the greatest business of all, to urge the high class residential people to locate and build in the county, and to bring certain types of industrial development.

Johnson Speaks

V. D. Johnson, advertising man of the county, asked the advertising committee to bring in a report of the needs before July 1 at which time his budget is presented to the supervisors. Johnson urges the increase in the budget so that the newspapers may have a due share of advertising.

Assemblyman Clyde Watson stated that the $19,000 for advertising is a small amount to expend when one realizes the return received from tourists.

Senator Harry Westover, Assemblyman Clyde Watson and L. F. Kimmell, chairman of the fish committee of the association all announced that the sentiment regarding the formation of a fishing preserve along the coast had been changed and in their opinions the proposed fishing preserve bill will go through next year. According to Harry Welch the small commercial fishermen are "on their ear" about the fishing conditions and are ready to join the forces as they have no quarrel with the sports fishermen regarding the control of fishing along the coast.

Naval Base

That a naval supply base may be established between Seal Beach and Huntington Beach appeared to be nearer a reality was announced by Burr Brown, city attorney at Seal Beach, who is heading a drive to get the base. A naval affairs committee has recently been appointed and that body will meet in July to study the proposition. Authorities are considering the possible extension of the Long Beach breakwater down the coast to Seal Beach or farther, according to Brown.

Donald Beach Kirby, architect from Newport Beach, was the principal speaker of the evening and talked on the progress being made in building in the county.

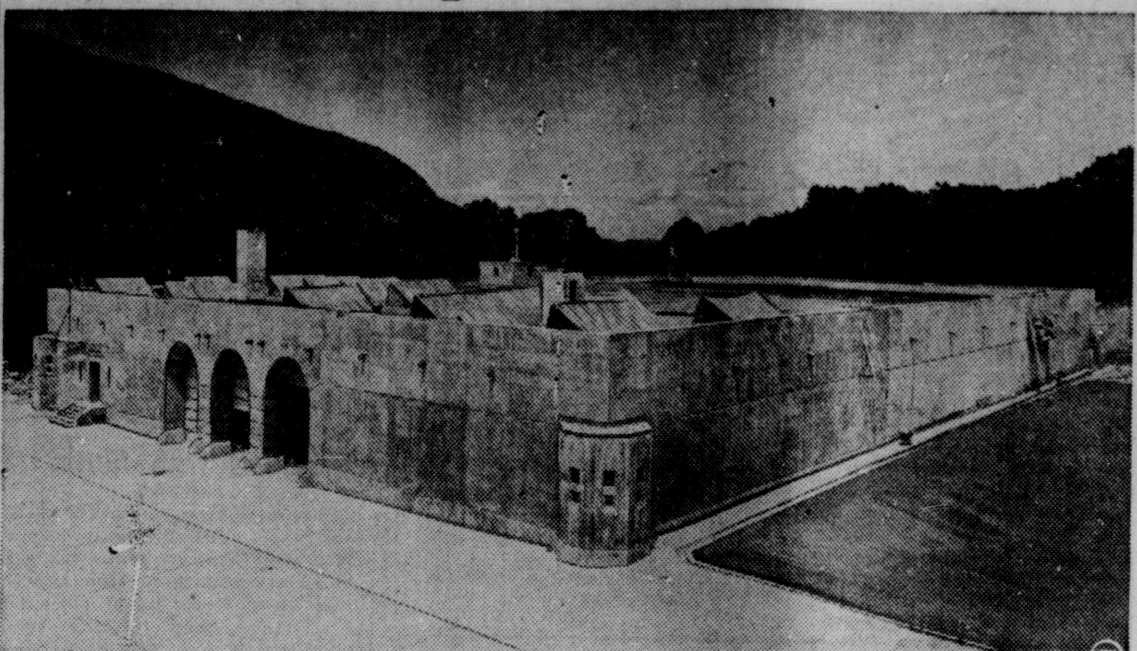

Mrs. L. Babcock Burns of Santa Ana talked on the Orange County Concert Series to be held in Santa Ana during 1938-39 and gained many new members at the meeting. The project was heartily endorsed by Mayor M. M. McCallen and others.

President Carl Hankey presided.

"Cold Storage" for Uncle Sam's Silver

The grim-looking one-story concrete structure pictured above is the new Federal silver repository at West Point, N. Y., built to receive the overflow of silver from the New York Assay Office. Mrs. Nellie Taloe Ross, Director of the Mint, inspected it recently and said she would soon start moving in silver for "cold storage" at the rate of more than $3,000,000 a day. The building has room for 70,000 tons of the metal, and will be about half filled when the accumulated bullion of the Assay Office, totaling $646,400,000, is moved in. The concrete strong box will be guarded by the latest scientific devices.

PILOT JOHNNY MARTIN AIDS STRICKEN MAN ON AIRLINER

Pilot Johnny Martin of Santa Ana figured in a story of national interest yesterday when Dr. Robert S. Hardwick of El Paso, Texas, sat at a microphone at the El Paso Airport and by short wave directed the treatment of an American Airlines passenger who became critically ill on a flight from Phoenix, Ariz.

The patient, James H. Anible, of Dallas, was returning to his home from a sanitarium in San Diego. He collapsed while the ship was above the Arizona desert and Martin sent an urgent message to the airport. Dr. Hardwick rushed from his home to the airport and for more than an hour, gave instructions for treating Anible to Thelma Fuller, Los Angeles, the stewardess of the ship. Miss Fuller, a trained nurse, advised Dr. Hardwick of the patient's pulse beat, his temperature, and respiration.

An ambulance, waiting at the airport, took Anible to a hospital. He was suffering from a stomach ailment. Martin was on his regular run from Los Angeles to Fort Worth in the giant American Airliner "Sky-sleeper" that was exhibited at the Santa Ana Air Show here on Sunday. He is the brother of Floyd Martin, owner of the Eddie Martin Airport in Santa Ana.

Assessment Roll Ready By July 4

The county supervisors will receive the 1938-39 county assessment roll from Assessor James Sleeper on July 4, it was arranged at yesterday's board meeting.

The law, it was said, requires that the assessment roll be turned over to the supervisors, as a board of equalization, on the first Monday in July, which falls on the fourth this year. But, since that is a legal holiday, when no official business can be transacted, the board will immediately adjourn after receiving the rolls.

Mayor McCallen gave the welcome address. President Dr. L. F. Whitaker of the chamber of commerce invited those present to come to the Fourth of July celebration, and F. E. Bundy, vice president, talked on safety.

MECHANICS TOPIC FOR TOASTMASTERS

Mechanics was the general theme of talks given by members of Century Toastmaster's Club last night, led off by Ernest H. Layton, Layton, introducing the Kinslow motor as a table topic, showed a diagram of the local man's invention and explained the working of it.

Dr. Perry Davis introduced Frank Mansur, electrical engineer, as the first speaker on his program. Mansur told of electricity as a force and of the theories which men had attached to it in an effort to explain it.

Following Mansur, the toastmaster introduced Bert Lawver as the next speaker, his subject being "Should the Machine Be Abolished." Lawver went into detail as to what machinery had achieved in promoting living standards, and offered figures to show that employment had been increased through machinery.

Giving the first of what has been requested as a series on the same general subject, Sam Hurwitz told of "Zionism," the forming of a Jewish nation in Palestine. He gave something of the background of injustice and misunderstanding and prejudice which had made Jews in all Europe persecuted.

Charles Denton Mosier made his first talk before the club in which he told of the uses to which bank checks are put and some of the misuses of them which cause bank clerks and officials much trouble.

Visitors were Dr. Hiram M. Curry, Wilfred Taylor and Paul Alberts. Critics for the speakers were Ernest S. Wooster, Ted Blanding, Paul Bakenhus and A. G. Green, the latter also presiding in the absence of Glenn Tidball.

Y BOYS LEAVE FOR CAMP ON JULY 11

"Our quota for camp Osceola is half subscribed," D. H. Tibbals, Santa Ana assistant Y.M.C.A. secretary announced today.

A total of 75 Santa Ana youths and leaders will enter the popular "Y" camp on July 11, and return to Santa Ana July 23, a total of 11 full days in camp.

At the present time the northern Orange county group headed by Y.M.C.A. Secretary Archie Ralitt of Fullerton are in camp. The northern Orange county group will spend much of their spare time repairing the damaged ball diamond and replacing the campfire site that was washed away by the recent March flood waters.

By the time the Santa Ana youths arrive at camp it again will be in top shape, with the damage that was caused by the flood being repaired by volunteer workers recruited from the northern Orange county group, Tibbals explained.

GAS TRAP DEVICES ASSESSED BY STATE

One hundred two devices for illegally trapping wet gasoline in oil fields which was bootlegged directly to car owners, cost oil field operators of Southern California in taxes and penalties assessed by the state board of equalization, according to William G. Bonelli, member of the board for this district, said today.

Investigation of the traps required more than a year and revealed conditions paralleling operations of liquor bootleggers during prohibition. The investigation, Bonelli said, not only saved revenues for the state but lessened dangers of fire in the oil fields.

AMENDMENT IS AID TO FARMER

Farmers of the nation have reason to feel fortunate due to the inclusion in the recently enacted Wages and Hours Bill of the Bierman Amendment, stated local Farm Bureau officials today.

Efforts of organized farm groups to amend the bill on the floor of the house, to broaden and clarify the language, defining "employees employed in agriculture," proved successful despite strong opposition from supporters of the measure.

The amendment as passed by the house by a vote of 159 to 134 is in the following form: "Employees engaged in agriculture includes individuals employed within the area of production, engaged in the handling, packing, storing, ginning, compressing, pasteurizing, drying, or canning of farm products, and in making cheese and butter."

The word "processing" had been included in the definition of agricultural workers, but members of the Farm Bureau legislative group were influential in having the word stricken from the definition, due to the fact that sufficient opposition was developing to kill the entire amendment if that word had been included.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, voiced the sentiment of his organization in a letter to Bierman which stated, "Failure to exempt these operations when performed in rural areas where conditions are so greatly different from the situation in large industrial and urban centers will result in increased costs of processing and handling these products, which will be reflected back in lower prices paid to farmers."

Interpretation of this amendment is especially important to Orange county where the language of the bill definitely exempts employees of citrus packing houses, as well as the workers in the field. Provision of the bill would have placed a gradually increasing minimum wage scale upon the industry which would have meant a minimum payment of 30c per hour, graduating to 40c per hour in 7 years, and a maximum working week of 44 hours the first year, 42 the second year, and 40 thereafter.

HARBOR COMMITTEE PLANS TRIP ON BAY

Under the supervision of Harry Welch, chairman of the Upper Bay development committee of the Newport-Balboa chamber of commerce, a large part of the 50 members of the committee will take advantage of a high tide at 5:30 p. m. Friday to take a boat trip into Upper Bay area. Purpose of the trip is to study the possibilities for future bay development.

Members of the committee who received appointment at the recent Harbor Day meeting held at the Newport Yacht Club from Santa Ana and who will attend the inspection tour are: Rex Kennedy, C. H. Holles, Fred Merker, W. F. Croddy and Howard I. Wood.

Box-ing Match

BUILDERS LICENSES ARE DUE ON JUNE 30

All licenses issued by the Contractor's State License Board must be renewed by June 30 or they will expire, was the warning received today by Goodrich W. Bassett, secretary manager of the Orange County Builders' Exchange from Arthur Alber, registrar of contractors.

According to Alber, the attorney general has ruled that an applicant is not "filed" until it is actually in the possession of the registrar and applications must be mailed or sent to an office of the registrar not later than June 30. Hereafter a postmark of June 30th was sufficient.

STATE DENIES 39 LICENSES

Thirty-nine applications for liquor licenses in Southern California were denied by the state board of equalization at Sacramento last week, 11 licenses were suspended and five were revoked for violating provisions of the Alcohol Beverage Control Act, but Orange county dealers were not affected, according to local officials.

However, a report on a local West First street Mexican liquor establishment was sent to the board after hearing last week and a decision is expected soon.

Denials last week were prompted by a variety of reasons including proximity of premises to schools or churches, creation of a policing problem in supervising operation of premises and contrary to public welfare and morals because of sale of liquor to minors. Revocations were based on sales after 2 a. m. sale to Indians, disorderly premises, adulteration of liquor and proximity to a Boy Scout camp.

CIVIL SERVICE TO HOLD EXAMINATION

Five opportunities for government employment were announced in Santa Ana today through Frank Cannon, secretary of the United States civil service board of examiners in this city.

Applicants have been requested to file with the Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C., not later than July 21, if received from Colorado and states westward.

The job of operating engineer will pay $2600 a year; photographer, $1444 an hour, 40 hour week; instrument maker, $1260 a year; medical officer, $3500 a year and associate medical officer, $3200 a year.

For full information the applicants are requested to see Frank Cannon, secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board of examiners at the post office in this city.

Luncheon Decorations
Apply Clever Motif
Of New Home

When Mrs. Raymond H. Gardell was complimented yesterday at a luncheon in the home of her close neighbor, Mrs. H. E. Padock, 414 North Van Ness avenue, she found that the pretty home of the Gardells, now nearing completion at 1401 North Garfield street, had provided the decorative theme for the affair.

In addition to flowers which adorned her table, she used place cards with pretty home designs. These were written for her honor guest, Mrs. Gardell, and for Mesdames Harry Stearns, Edwin Goodwin, Duane Smith, Charles Macy, Warren McCarty and Samuel Ross. With the serving of the final luncheon course, the hostess produced a cake that was a replica of the Gardell's new home, the house number traced in the icing. Guests had taken pleasure in selecting shower gifts which will find place and use in the charming home, and during the afternoon worked on a quilt which is to be used in a colonial bedroom, after the Gardells move within the next few weeks.

Jimmie Paul's Sixth
Birthday is Observed

Although Jimmie Paul's sixth birthday was given a very quiet celebration, he did share the event with a group of his playmates who assembled Tuesday evening in the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Cassius Paul, 1804 Heliotrope Drive.

Supper was served in the patio, where a large table bore a colorful soldier boy centerpiece. Jimmie's birthday cake was a festive-looking confection of circus tent design, with a border of animal and clown figures.

In the group with Jimmie were his sister, Suzanne Paul and Caroline Harrison, Waldo Leeling, Cabell Finch, Guinevere and Junior Burroughs and Dorothy Dennis. The celebrant's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Cassius Paul and Mrs. J. E. Paul completed the party.

ARROWHEAD STAY

Mrs. J. H. Virnig and her young son, Joseph Talman, 2535 Valencia street, plan to return Saturday from Lake Arrowhead, where they have been spending the past 15 days while Master Joseph has been recuperating from bronchitis.

Mr. Virnig and his sister-in-law, Miss Marian Saunders of New York City will motor to the mountains Saturday, to be accompanied home by the other members of the family. Miss Saunders was at the resort for part of the time, leaving Monday for Burbank where she was by plane to San Francisco. She plans to return to the Virnig home Sunday evening.

Joining the Virnigs and Miss Saunders at Arrowhead last week end were Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Loerch, Jr. of this city.

Magnolias Add
Loveliness To Party Details

Magnolia blossoms floating in pretty bowls formed the table centerpiece yesterday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timmons on Red Hill avenue, where Miss Bettie Timmons and Miss Gloria Kirchner entertained for Miss Betty West.

The affair came as one of the final pre-nuptial affairs for Miss West, daughter of the Z. B. Wests, whose marriage to Frederick Pinkston will take place Saturday. A party tonight, and the rehearsal affair Friday night are other events on the calendar this week.

In giving yesterday's party, Miss Timmons and Miss Kirchner observed a bridal white theme. They served dessert at the magnolia-centered tables early in the afternoon. Mrs. Timmons and Miss Jane Austin assisted.

Presentation of linen shower gifts to Miss West followed the refreshment interval. Bridge play brought prizes to the Misses Beth Emlison and Catherine Eklund.

Present were the Misses Virginia Curry, Eleanor Cogam, Betty Brad, Evelyn Witt, Harriet Fowler, Beth Emlison, Patty Rapp, Barbara Davis, Barbara Warner, Josephine Flaherty, Audrey Sattler, Catherine Eklund, Jane Austin, Betty West and the two hostesses.

FOUR HONOR GUESTS

Four fathers shared honors on a recent occasion when a family group assembled at Anaheim park for a fried chicken dinner planned by Mrs. Robert Munro, 606 South Parton street.

Robert Munro and his father and uncle, Russell Munro and Albert Munro, were in the honored group with Mrs. Robert Munro's father, A. T. Waggener. There were gifts for each of the four. The noonday event proved so enjoyable, that the group remained at the park for an early supper.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Munro and son, Robbie; Mr. and Mrs. Waggener and Miss Vernis Waggener, the Russell Munros, Miss Ada Sandell and Albert Munro.

Church Societies

King's Guards

When King's Guards held their second meeting since organization Monday afternoon in First Methodist social hall, they devoted part of the time to working on scrapbooks to be sent to children in orphan hospitals.

The scrapbooks, which depict the life of Christ, will serve as the King's Guards' first project. Miss Flora Margaret Howland, president, conducted business matters. Bobbie Fox was elected second vice president; Doris Marie Barton, corresponding secretary; Jimmie Froeschle, secretary of literature. They complete the staff named at the initial meeting.

Mrs. C. H. Jeffrey, one of the leaders, received a new member, Audria Sinner. Magene Elston officiated in the absence of Carl Barnes, program chairman, introducing Bobbie Fox, who played a piano solo, "Fire Engine." Migrant children and children in Mission homes were described in stories read by Miss Mary Lamb. Devotionals were led by Mary Jane Robertson.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. W. Guthrie, president of Women's Home Missionary society. Tables were decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses and mountain sage.

Since the next meeting would fall on July 4, members will meet instead of Tuesday, July 5 at 2 p. m. in the social hall.

Early Evening Wedding
Prettily Staged in Church o' Flowers

Now honeymooning in the Yosemite, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones, whose wedding was an event of Saturday evening, June 18, will return to a home awaiting them in Hollywood.

Mrs. Jones was Miss Nona Ilona Saratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Saratt, 319 East Washington avenue. She and Mr. Jones exchanged wedding vows at 6:30 o'clock rites of charming simplicity Saturday evening in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale.

There was a short organ recital with Leslie Joffile at the console, before the bridal party formed before the Rev. H. R. Shaffer, pastor of Grandview Presbyterian church, Glendale.

Miss Saratt's graceful wedding gown was of chiffon in soft rose tones, with all details of her costume to harmonize. She wore sweet peas in the same hue, centered with gardenias. Mr. Saratt gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Lee Crawford, the former Miss Mildred Saratt, was honor matron for her sister, and wore flower-printed chiffon with a corsage of sweet peas in the same delicate colors. Jack Becker attended Mr. Jones as best man.

The score or more guests at the nuptials had opportunity to offer good wishes to the new Mr. and Mrs. Jones, at a reception given in the Crawford home at Reseda. The bride made a pretty ceremony of cutting the decorated wedding cake.

When the young people return to Hollywood to make their home, Mr. Jones will resume his duties for the Fox Motion picture corporation, where as landscape designer, he arranges the outdoor sets. He had his schooling in Ionia, Kans., his former home. His bride attended Santa Ana Junior college.

"I'm sorry I couldn't get two together, but I'll come back between innings."

Santa Ana Teacher Wedded
To Charming Anaheim Girl

Invested with more than usual solemn beauty because it was a father joining his daughter in marriage with the man of her choice, the wedding last night in Anaheim Bethel Baptist church of Miss Evelyn Naomi Hilgenfeld of that city, and Robert Stanley Farrar, vice-principal of Santa Ana High school, was one of the early summer's most brilliant bride events.

Fully 300 invitations had been issued by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hilgenfeld to their daughter's wedding, and guests assembling at the church for the 8 o'clock rites, heard a beautiful musical program, Miss Lois Schroeder sang, and to accompany other artists. Mrs. Neil Campbell, Pasadena sang "I Love You Truly" and "All For You," and the Misses Leila Brown and Margaret Hein played the violin duets, "At Dawn" and "Still Is the Night."

With larkspur starred the bank of palms and ferns at the candle-lit altar where Mr. Hilgenfeld officiated at the bridal ceremony after he had escorted his daughter to the scene and then taken his position as minister.

Miss Hilgenfeld was bride lovely personified, in her satin gown, its Elizabethan lace collar matching the lace on the sweeping train. Her veil was caught cap-wise to her hair with orange blossoms, and she carried an all-white bouquet in which the valley and bride roses were centered with orchids.

Miss Frances Katharine Hilgenfeld, gown in lace ruffled peaches and carrying Ambassador roses, acted as maid of honor, while the role of matron of honor was taken by another sister, Mrs. Harvey C. Nunn, wearing aqua net of similar mode, and carrying Ambassador roses. Mrs. Leslie M. Farrar, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the third attendant, and wore lace ruffled peach net with flowers matching the honor maid's bouquet. All three wore tiny caps to match their costumes.

Mr. Farrar's nieces, the little Misses Geraldine and Sylvia Farrar, were flower girls in ruffled organdy frocks over peach. Leslie M. Farrar served his brother as best man, and Messrs. Robert Higginson, Melvin D. Hilgenfeld, Harvey C. Nunn and Everett C. Graner ushered.

Flower decorations of the auditorium, were continued in theme in the church parlors, where the bridal party formed to receive good wishes during the reception hour. Mrs. S. F. Carman Home is Scene
Of Festivities
Following Rehearsal

Following last night's rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Juliette Wolven and Milford Carman was a party in the home of the bridegroom-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Carman, 210 South Lyon street.

The affair came as a pleasant finale to the round of events at which Miss Wolven has been fettered during the past few weeks. She and Mr. Carman will exchange vows Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Tustin Presbyterian church.

Members of the wedding party and a few additional guests were received at last night's event. Refreshments were served from a table overhung with wedding bells. Miniature bride and bridegroom figures and tall tapers contributed to the festive setting. Mrs. J. W. Carman, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, assisted her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. G. Carman in serving.

New "Art Center"
Dedicated with Music

An appropriate dedication of the new "Art Center" auditorium at 208 North Broadway, was the senior recital held there Monday evening when Holly Lash Visel and Lois Rees Auer of the Visel-Haughton studio, presented vocal and expression puppets.

Mrs. Visel has had plans under way for several weeks, to use this very attractive auditorium for recitals and social affairs in connection with the studio. Part of the equipment is the fine concert grand piano which Clarence Gustlin left for the art center during his trip abroad.

Monday night's program attracted a large audience which showed appreciation of the work of the young people and of the charming stage outlined with candles. The program opened and closed with choruses by the Visel Ensemble, a singing group directed by Mrs. Visel and Ruth Armstrong, the accompanist. In their formal taffeta frocks of rich flower hues, the girls sang Kathleen Lockhart Manning's "In a Luxembourg Garden" and "Love's a Merchant" (Carew) for the program opening. At the close of the evening, having changed meantime to airy chiffon in pastel colors, they sang a Strauss waltz. Members of the ensemble in addition to soloists were the Misses Marjorie Tubach, Lois Newbold, Dorothy Coe and Ruth Townsend.

Miss Armstrong accompanied all vocal numbers, including Miss Ruby Einspahr's lovely solo, "Garden of Happiness," and those by remaining soloists. Miss Eleanor Patrick added a clever child impersonation, "Little Boy at the Circus"; Miss Marjorie Ball continued the program with the arresting solo, "Solange's Song" from Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite"; Miss Jean Louise Sutherland (Anaheim) gave two amusing Irish dialect readings and Miss Margaret Bee-son provided an entertaining monologue in "The Newlyweds Go Fishing." Closing the first half of the program were Miss Audrey Hancock's solos, "Love is the Wind" (McFadden) and Schubert's "Serenade," sung with delicacy and beauty.

Miss Betty Jane Ward opened the second half of the evening's entertainment by singing "Dedication" (Robert Frost) followed by the dramatic interpretation of Carmen's son, "Habanera," from the opera. Miss Virginia Pritchard also chose an aria, the "Jewel Song" from Faust, for which the stage was arranged with spinning wheel and jewel chest, while the young diva was in the quaint costume of Marguerite.

Also in costume, was Miss Alice McKee, wearing Oriental garb for a touching reading from "Madame Butterfly." Miss Margaret Davies chose a completely modern song group for her brilliant solos, "Love Me Enough" (Wolfe), "Lullaby" (Cyril Scott) and "The Stamped" (Ernest Charles). Miss Betty Jane Moore did some remarkable character work in her reading, "The Old Actress"; Bruce Buell showed sharp contrast in vocal interpretation with his solos, "My Lady Walks in Loveliness," and the brilliant "Captain Stratton's Fancy." Miss Ann Wetherell's aria, "Caro Nome," from Rigoletto brought a brilliant close to solo work of the evening.

More than 100 guests were greeted by the newly-married couple during a reception in the lower auditorium of the church. In the receiving line with the new Mr. and Mrs. Ross were the bride's mother, Mrs. Clinton Brush in Poudre blue chiffon with gardenias; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. David Pearce of Modesto, in dusty rose lace over rose t

Fritz Feld smacked his forehead with his palm, went into a spin and collapsed in a chair. "Good

Dogs Cited As Aid To Science

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—(UP)—Dogs, long termed "man's best friend," have made possible the greatest medical discoveries of all times, the Pacific division of the Association for the Advancement of Science was told today.

Dr. A. J. Carlson, Chicago physiologist, pointed out 3 years of research, mainly with dogs, resulted in development of insulin to a point where it was possible to give it to humans—every kot of insulin before being placed on the market still is tested for safety on animals, it was explained.

Medical experiments on dogs, Dr. Carlson said resulted in discovery of "the approximate causes of pernicious anemia and means of controlling it by liver and gastric principles."

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 22.—(UP)—Arthur H. Samish, San Francisco lobbyist, today went on trial in police court on criminal contempt charges lodged against him for refusal to appear before the Sacramento county grand jury investigating alleged legislative corruption.

Selection of a jury occupied the morning session, with the first panel consisting of eleven men and one woman. Eight jurors were accepted.

Objection of Attorney Anthony J. Kennedy, representing the San Francisco lobbyist, to the presence of George M. Naus, special prosecutor appointed by District Attorney Otis D. Babcock to assist him in the investigation, was overruled.

Kennedy contended that Naus was not a duly appointed officer in Sacramento county and could not represent the state in the trial.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 22.—(UP)—A spurt of more than 6 points in American Telephone & Telegraph capital stock featured a strong, active stock market today. Transactions crossed the million share mark for the third consecutive session.

The rise in American Telephone followed declaration of a $2 dividend by New York Telephone company, America's principal subsidiary.

Over high grade issues made broad gains. United States Steel rose more than 2 points; American Can more than 4 points to a new high; Chrysler rose more than 2; International Harvester more than 2; Westinghouse Electric more than 3; Du Pont more than 3 and Santa Fe nearly 2 points.

Most commodities advanced, although wheat lost a cent a bushel. Cotton futures firmed after a decline. A barometer of industry—steel scrap—rose again. In this regard, the "Iron Age" said:

"This week the steel industry notes a strengthening in the scrap market with the Iron Age composite price 25 cents higher at $11.25 a ton, the first advance in 26 weeks." This, of course, is a reflection of the attention of observers who place reliance in scrap price trends as a steel industry barometer.

Several other favorable business items appeared. The President signed a recovery bill and announced plans to speed funds to many projects. Better reports were forthcoming from railroads in income and car loadings. Lead and zinc prices were advanced. Gasoline stocks were reduced for the 11th consecutive week. Cigarette production for the first five months of 1938 were at a record high. Electricity production held steady.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, June 22.—(UP)—Despite heavy rains, the undertone of wheat prices was easy on the Chicago Board of Trade today.

At the close wheat was off 1 1/4 cent, corn up 1/4 to 3/4, and oats 1/4 to 3/4 cent lower.

Hedge selling turned prices downward, but the undertone of wheat prices was easy. Prices firmed temporarily, due to a rally in securities and to reports of bad crop conditions and higher oil balances.

Corn maintained a firm tone due to fair crop reports, but no sustained buying power developed.

Oil continued a firm tone due to fair crop reports, but no sustained buying power developed.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

WAR AGAINST DISHONESTY

An editorial in the Prescott, Ariz., Courier, recently observed that for 150 years the New York Stock Exchange "has zealously guarded its integrity, beginning with that small group of stockbrokers who, shortly after the American Revolution, bought and sold securities under the old buttonwood tree in lower Wall Street and who laid the moral foundation embodied in the constitution of the Exchange."

It is probable that there is no institution or industry in this country which goes to greater trouble and expense to assure the public a "square deal" than the stock exchange. And, as statistics show, this work has come amazingly close to the ideal of 100 per cent effectiveness. During the three years ending in 1937, not a single brokerage house connected with the Exchange failed, in spite of the fact that general business and bank failures during a part of that time were at excessively high levels. And whenever it is discovered that a brokerage house has violated the code, especially if it is found that fraud or dishonesty are involved, the Exchange moves with lightning speed to punish the offender. Its strict code of ethics has been almost entirely self-imposed, by the institution's governors. All during its long existence it has worked unceasingly toward the attainment of the highest possible degree of probity among its members. And now that the SEC exists, the Exchange management has been extremely co-operative in working out problems.

LESSON IN RAT-HOLES

Proposals to settle and finally "pay off" the British war debt to America are gaining ground in London.

The Baldwin settlement of 1923 called for payment of $13,520,000,000 in 62 years, but the British war debt has been in default, both in principal and interest, since 1931. At that time the British attitude was: "We can't pay. Let them whistle for their money. We fought their fight for three years, and spent the money in the States anyway, Uncle Sam is just Uncle Shylock to us."

But today there is a movement in Britain to pay something to settle the matter for good and all. Why this change of front, all of a sudden?

Today London is worrying about another war. And American law now forbids any loans to countries which have defaulted. Looking toward an uncertain future, it would be well to have that American matter cleared up so the way would be open to further loans, rather than closed by default on the last ones.

So now it is proposed that a single lump sum be paid, say a half-billion dollars, and by mutual consent wash up the whole matter.

What is it worth to the United States to have this continual reminder around her neck that the financing of wars means default and ruin? It might be worth more than a half-billion dollars when the next war comes along.

And this is no discredit to the British, who probably would have paid the debt if anybody would. The point is that war debts of this kind are uncollectible from any nation and under any circumstances. It might be worth a half billion dollars if we could be made to remember that; if we could learn that what is tossed down the rat-hole of war is gone forever.

SEASONAL BONANZA

One of America's biggest industries is a thing which is seldom looked on as an industry at all. It is the business of supplying, feeding and bedding the summer automobile tourist as he wanders up and down the country.

This summer, according to estimates prepared by the American Petroleum Institute, the motor tourist is going to spend $4,000,000,000, which is big money, any way you look at it, especially in a time of deep economic depression.

One interesting fact about this huge expenditure is that until recently a good slice of the sum was going to Europe instead of being spent at home. Beginning about 1931, when the depression began to make itself felt in a really painful way, tourist travel from the United States to Europe fell off; but at the same time vacation travel within the United States began to increase, and it has been going up ever since.

More interesting than that, however, is the fact that this tourist trade has been a life-saver, economically, for thousands upon thousands of individuals.

For a great part of this $4,000,000,000 goes, not to established big business agencies, but to the little fellows who saw their chance and took it—proprietors of roadside stands, home-owners who set aside a couple of rooms for tourists' use, canny farmers who turned a pleasant strip of river or lake frontage into a tourist camp, people who started a restaurant or filling station on a shoe string.

In a very real way, this vast vacation spending spree has cushioned the depression. It has given many and many a family the chance to start a little business; it has brought to many more enough of an added income to tide over the depression period.

And so, when you wheel the old bus out of the garage this summer and start your little trip, you can comfort yourself with the thought that you are at least a corporal of big industry, if not a regular captain.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

By King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The popular notion that billions are going to flow freely from the treasury epigot anytime soon is not justified by the inside facts.

Government officials are whooping up the prospect by radio. Most of them really believe it themselves. (Only one government economist has even gone to the trouble to make an actual chart of expenditure possibilities for the next six months and his is not in detail.) Business is generally assuming it, because twelve billions were appropriated by congress for that expressed purpose. Economic authorities are accepting the assumption. Even Roger Babson is basing advice upon the official prospect of flowing billions.

But when you get down to particulars of what agency is going to spend how much and where, you will find the government is just not geared to function like a piggy bank. It is still the small crawling through absolutely and indispendable and necessary red tape.

In fact, you will find the present prospect is that business proceeds from the government epigot in June may run a million dollars less than May, that July may be up only about 15 millions.

Next six months now seems likely to be only $603 millions (not billions), more than the six months ending June 30.

On the assumption that government spending is the most important business story at the moment, a careful survey was made of the twelve government agencies doing the bulk of it. Figures of their outlays for the past six months, month-by-month, were obtained and estimates for the next six months were based on programs, plans, possibilities or best guesses.

Roughly this first compilation of spending-for-business details shows:

WPA—Has been increasing gradually from $102 million in January to $156 million in June; will average $178 millions monthly for the rest of the year which will make the total outlay for the next six months just $264 millions more than the closing six months of the year. And, of course, WPA is supposed to be the largest, fastest pipeline from the treasury to the parched business orchard.

AAA—Actually expects to spend $31 millions less in the next six months for soil conservation payments. It hit a high of $60 millions for March and April but will be down to $35 millions for July. Probable outlay for the next six months $222 millions.

PWA—Can get out no more than $100 millions total for next six months; probably 2 millions in July; $10 millions in October; up to $45 millions in December. Much more will be headed in "authorizations" but these estimates are good for actual expenditures going into the business stream.

Biggest working spigot aside from WPA will be the Federal credit, handling farm commodity loans. It was down to $2 millions in June but will work up to a $61 millions high in November, and its next 6 months will probably run $138 millions over the first half of the year.

Two agencies other than AAA actually expect to spend less the next six months—civilian conservation corps (building of barracks has been completed) and farm security administration (big loans will come in spring). The CCC outlay will probably be $13 millions less and FSA probably will be off $10 millions.

The navy will average about $17 millions a month for construction for the rest of the year. Social security will put out about $25 millions a month; reconstruction finance (this one is just an unofficial guess in the dark) $55 millions a month; U. S. housing a total of $50 millions for the whole six months; National Youth Administration and federal surplus commodities corporation around $5 a month each.

The totals of the last six months and the prospects of the coming six months, stack up like this (in millions of dollars): January, $274; February, $271; March, $330; April, $336; May, $332; June, $331. Total, $1,874.

July, $349; August, $355; September, $381; October, $413; November, $479; December, $470; total, $2,477.

While earnest acceleration may lift these totals somewhat, you will hardly be able to stretch your imagination to approximate current popular notions of the spending-for-business which is in prospect.

So many people want to see Jesse Jones get some of his $15 billions of RFC money that he has taken over half the entire floor of his office building to use as a private office. Visitors are put into individual offices in the manner of hotel room assignments. Jones' secretary William Costello says: "Take Mr. Much to 909," or "Is there anyone in 1927? We will put Mr. Not-so-Much in there."

The guest waits in his assigned room until Mr. Jones appears, on his rounds. Thus he keeps two or three conferences going at once, shuttling himself in and out while the conferees are getting things straightened out to his liking.

'What'd You Bring Back For Me, Uncle Joe?'

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Lay columnists and commentators should never make any remark touching a religious issue. In a recent piece, I said: "Jesus was killed, not by the Jewish people, who adored Him, but by a Roman executioner, at the suggestion of the current palace brain trust."

Boy, did that draw a barrage of ecclesiastical dead cats! Didn't I know that I was disputing the word of God! Doesn't the whole world know that the Jews killed Christ? What did I mean by saying that they have been persecuted for that unjustly? Am I in the pay of a Semitic conspiracy and so on and on, far into the week.

As a student of law, my hobby has been the tragic subject of the trial of Jesus. There are many books and papers—studies of that subject. All do not reach exactly the same conclusion, but the general result is that Jesus was condemned in violation of Jewish law in several of its fundamental principles.

It was engineered by the "high priests and elders"—either an official or an unofficial Sanhedrin—because He was interfering with their rackets and because of the growing devotion to Him of the mass of the Jewish people who, as I said, "adored Him." This small but powerful group who conspired to procure this judicial murder were what I called the "current palace brain trust."

The course of His double trial when traced from the legal angle, looks exactly like the course of modern abuses of the judicial system. First, they sent under-cover men to try to provoke Him into violations of both their and the Roman law. "Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?"

And the questions of the Sadducees about the Resurrection and of the Pharisees about the Great Commandment were for this purpose. It didn't work.

The conspiracy with Judas was an illegal attempt surreptitiously to abduct Him for the purpose of giving Him a modern police trial degree to get Him to incriminate Himself—which is exactly what the unlawful inquisitions by night before Annas and Caiaphas were.

The trial before the Sanhedrin, or a group of priests and elders, was very clearly a bum's rush road-riding to death by a small group under a judicial disguise so shoddy that it has been attacked as violating Jewish law on no less than 30 fundamental points.

With all this, the Jewish people, as such, had nothing to do. On the contrary, the sole reason for all the haste, secrecy and illegality was that the conspirators were afraid that any violence offered to Jesus would result in riot, if not in revolution.

This is quite clear from the fact that His triumphant entry into Jerusalem had just occurred among the plaudits of the people and the plain statement by St. Matthew: "Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas, and consulted that they might take Jesus by subtlety and kill Him. But they said, 'Not on the feast day lest

YOU AND YOUR Nation's Affairs

MEASURING THE DEPRESSION
BY ERICK MCKINLEY ERICKSSON
Professor of History, University of Southern California

Almost three-quarters of a year to have passed since the country first became aware of the fact that it was entering upon a new depression. For months the administration leaders refused to take a realistic view of the situation, contenting themselves with attempts to delude the people into believing that there was nothing really wrong. The "recession," they loudly asserted, was due to a business "downturn" staged for the purpose of embarrassing the administration.

Gullible indeed is the person who accepts such a lame explanation. Even the most credulous can hardly be expected to believe sincerely that businessmen and industrialists are committing economic suicide in order to spite the President.

Instead of directing their efforts towards the improvement of the economic situation, the administration leaders seem bent on doing everything possible to discourage business. While the situation calls for measures to remove the fog of uncertainty which has enveloped the nation's economic structure, the neo-New Dealers heedlessly pursue their reform program.

Meanwhile, the index figures which measure economic activity drop lower and lower. The nose dive taken by stocks and securities is only one sign of the times. Not since 1924 has there been so little activity in the stock market as in May of this year.

Statistics recently published by the Federal Reserve Bulletin reveal further cause for pessimism. They show that in most of the fields of production, employment and trade, sharp declines have taken place. In some instances activity has fallen dangerously close to the low point of 1932 and 1933.

Manufacturing as a whole has been hard hit. Considering the period 1923-24 as 100, manufacturing activity in April, 1937, reached 125. But in March, 1938, it stood at 77, which was not far above the low point of 1932 when it was 63. The iron and steel industry fell in a year from 142 to 55, textiles from 132 to 82, automobiles from 140 to 63, cement from 67

(Address questions to the author, care of this newspaper)

there be an uproar among the people."

They did take Him on the feast day but they did it in the secrecy and haste already discussed, because they were afraid of "the Jewish people who adored Him."

Finally, Jesus was not crucified for their conviction of blasphemy but by "a Roman executioner" on an entirely new charge by the "palace brain trust" that he was "stirring up" the Jewish people. This is not a theological column. The statements which drew such fire were statements of law and history and not of religion. But they were not made in carelessness or ignorance. There is in them nothing to alter or retract.

Clearing House

Editor Register:
Mr. Sharpless Walker in a very interesting, if not very edifying criticism, ridicules our answer to Mr. Rowray's "Clearing House" contributions.

Space will not permit a reply to all of Mr. Walker's statements but we will endeavor, concisely, to answer his opening remarks which are, we think, a fair sample of his entire contribution.

We quote the following from his communication:
"LEW BETTS ANSWERED"
"To the Editor: In the Register, Lew Betts writes this climax of fallacy:

"The more the unemployed are compensated the more they consume, and the less will be consumed by men employed in production."

"Continuing, he expresses this super-absurdity:
"Just as sure as one man consumes without producing, some other man must produce without consuming."

"Such ideas are so palpably preposterous and seemingly learned that no one but a reactionary or sophomoric could have conceived or expressed them."

"While the best thought and statesmanship of the nation are endeavoring to increase purchasing power and limit overproduction, Mr. Betts and other reactionaries are wrestling with the purely imaginary and non-existing problem of scarcity."

Let us now examine this statement of ours which Mr. Walker asserts is a "climax of fallacy."

"The more the unemployed are compensated, the more they will consume, and the less will be consumed by the men employed in production."

We ask Mr. Walker: Just where is the fallacy in that statement?

Is it in the first clause that "The more the unemployed are compensated the more they will consume"? What in the name of common sense and reason are they compensated for anyway?

Is it not that they may be enabled to consume more than they would if not compensated? And is it conceivable only to "reactionaries and sophomores" that the more they are compensated, the less they are compensated the less they can consume? Or might the "climax of fallacy," per adventure, be found in the second clause of that same statement that "The more the unemployed are compensated, the less will be consumed by those who are employed?"

Only that may be consumed which is produced. That which is consumed by the unemployed can not again be consumed by the employed.

Unemployed alone are the producers; therefore the more the unemployed are compensated the less will remain to be consumed by the real producers, who, in the final analysis, must furnish the compensation to the unemployed from the fruits of their own production.

I hope Mr. Walker in some early article will point out the fallacy of the one or the other, or all of the statements.

We trust he will not talk about Hoover or Mellon or trusts or reactionaries as he does in most of his contributions, all of which may be all right in proper place but will not be an answer to the question we are here asking him: Just where is the fallacy in the above statements?

Let us now consider our second assertion which Mr. Walker calls "super-absurdity."

"Just as sure as one man consumes without producing, some other man must produce without consuming." We hardly think this statement requires argument to sustain it. We rather suspect that the reactionary, the sophomoric, or even the freshman would call that statement "axiomatic" rather than "palpably preposterous."

As to Mr. Walker's assertion that "the best thought and statesmanship of the nation are endeavoring to increase purchasing power and limit overproduction" we must concede that it is one half true, but the other half both economically and historically false.

It is true that the best thought and statesmanship of this, as well as all other civilized nations has always been endeavoring to increase purchasing power but never to limit what new dealers call overproduction. The best thought of the nation has always realized, as it does today, that production itself is the only purchasing power. That there is nothing "imagined or non-existing" about the problem of scarcity, not only "Mr. Betts and other reactionaries" but millions of others are ready to assure Mr. Walker if he is not cognizant of that fact from his own experience. The "best thought and statesmanship of the nation" are wrestling with the problem of scarcity today just as the best thought of the world has wrestled with it from time when the cavemen ground acorns for his flour between roughly shaped rocks and starved when insects or drought, or some fool new deal legislation destroyed one-third of his acorn crop.

We hold the above truths to be self-evident. Concealed it is true by "reactionaries and sophomores" but sometimes we suspect that even a new deal lawyer may view an occasional glimmer of their truth, even though party loyalty may forbid its acknowledgment.

PRESIDENT LACKS FACTS ON COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT COSTS

In his Arthur Daley speech, the President said, "Taxes, local and state and federal combined, are no where near as high in this country as they are in any other great nation that pretends to be up-to-date."

If this statement means anything, it would mean that the government costs each individual less than it costs each individual in another country, but the truth is the precise opposite. Government now costs us more than it does in other nations, according to a survey made by Harry Scherman, author of "The Promises Men Live By" and published in the New York Herald-Tribune.

To substantiate his data, Mr. Scherman, of course, takes into account the money we are borrowing as part of the government cost, because it is a cost, whether the consumer is directly paying it or not.

The Twentieth Century Fund published a survey in 1937 under the title of The National Debt and Government Credit. In one of its chapters it compared the government expenditures of Great Britain, France and the United States. Both central and local government expense were included.

The result was as follows for 1936, the latest year for which authoritative figures from the governments were then available:

United States: $133 per person.
Great Britain: $123 per person.
France: $103 per person.

Thus, the President was very misleading in his statements. He was not taking the people into his confidence. He either was not informed or was deliberately deceiving the people. It would seem that the President of the United States would not make such statements as these, particularly if he were really trying to build up a sound government that would enable the people to have a better living.

When these figures are reduced to families, we get a little better conception of what the actual cost is. Mr. Scherman figures there are 31,500,000 families in the United States. This means that each family on the average must contribute directly or indirectly $523. When it is remembered that the share-croppers and the great number of people who live on very low incomes, contribute much less than this, it is evident that the great majority of people on an average contribute more than $523 per family.

And when it is remembered that because we have taught people to believe that the rich could pay the taxes and, thus, retard expansion, research work and development, the lack of wages and the lack of production that the great mass of people must do without must be added to this stupendous sum of $523 per family.

And there seems to be no sign of the government admitting that they cannot spend themselves rich by making fake jobs, which produce very little real wealth and on which the workers receiving the salary consume much more wealth than they produce. Someone else must do without or we are eating up the savings of generations.

IMPORTING FOODS WE PAY FARMERS NOT TO PRODUCE

The Department of Commerce makes quite a brag about the April rise of food exports from the United States over March and over April a year ago. The amount sent abroad in April was nearly two and a third times as much, in value, as in the same month last year.

This is fine. We are glad to see the business, glad also to see there are some other countries not in depression so they can buy increasing amounts of food from the United States.

The Department also points out that imports of food into the United States have declined faster and faster each recent month and in April were 45 per cent below, in value, those of the same months last year.

Whether this is also fine depends upon how you look at it. It certainly seems better to see this country importing less of the kinds of food the New Deal Government is paying farmers not to produce. On the other hand, if this decline in food imports is merely a reflection of depression in the United States it is not so fine.

Either way, these food imports remain remarkable for a country which is forbidding farmers to produce them for fear they will produce more than we can use. In the Department of Commerce list are some striking items.

Take corn, supposed to be an American specialty. In the ten months ending with April we imported more than thirty-four million bushels, $24,890,000 worth. Yet this very week Congress ordered $63,000,000 to be paid to corn growers in subsidies. The question arises to whom are we paying this subsidy, to ourselves or to foreign corn growers?

As to wheat, the facts are not clear, as the Department's figures include wheat that came in under bond to be ground and exported as flour but do not specify the amount of this. However, in the ten months we imported 3,255,000 bushels of wheat, $1,040,000 worth. This week Congress ordered $53,000,000 distributed to wheat growers. Who gets this subsidy also?

Why are we restricting grain production when in the ten months we imported $4,874,000 worth of barley malt and $1,010,000 worth of barley? This week Congress ordered $36,000,000 distributed to cotton growers in subsidies, yet in the ten months we imported almost $3,000,000 worth of cottonseed oil, the chief byproduct.

We have nothing to say about tapioca, bananas, coffee and tea, but why, with a crop restriction program on, did we import almost $2,000,000 worth of canned tomatoes, $7,785,000 worth of olive oil, edible and inedible, and $8,575,000 worth of still and sparkling wines, $3,375,000 worth of brandy and $44,800,000 worth of rum and whisky? In this last item rises up again the specter of that subsidy for not growing corn and wheat.

The specters of the assassinated little pigs and the massacred cattle also peer inquiringly at the import in these ten months of $29,507,000 worth of cattle, beef and pork, to say nothing of $10,875,000 worth of milk, cream, butter and cheese.

These imports of food do not make sense with a program of bonuses to create scarcity or, rather, the program of bonuses to create scarcity does not make sense with them.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE ARTIFICIAL PRICE CONTROL

"The way to create buying power and to reduce unemployment is by increasing production, abolishing inflexible wage scales and by resisting artificial price control."—From the C. F. Childs' Bulletin.
